Freed Airmen Reach Manila, Assail Captors

HONG KONG (AP) — Eleven U. S. airmen happily crossed the Hong Kong border to freedom today in good physical shape and mental spirit after 2½ years captivity in Communist China.

Five and a half hours after their release, the 11 were flown in two plush Air Force transports to Manila where they were met by Brig. Gen. William L. Lee, commander of the U. S. 13th Air Force, and by U. S. Ambassador Homer Ferguson. Friday they will fly to Tokyo and then to the U. S. West Coast for reunion with their families.

At Hong Kong, Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., 41, Silver Spring, Md., their leader, bitterly told a news conference, "Peiping is not entitled to a damn thing" in now releasing the 11 B29 crew members.

Communist China convicted them as spies last November. They had been held since their plane was shot down Jan. 12, 1953 in the Korean War.

The Red Chinese sentenced them last November as spies to prison terms ranging up to 10 years.

Geneva Talks Are Recessed Until Monday

No Indication Given on Whether Chinese Will Free 40 U.S. Civilians

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Red China today called another recess—this time until Monday—in their secret talks.

There was no word whether Red China had agreed to release 40 American civilians it holds.

U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese envoy Wang Ping-nan talked for an hour and a half on the question of the civilians, but neither would indicate what progress, if any, had been made.

A U. S. spokesman announced only that they would meet again Monday on the same subject.

This was seen as an indication that one or both of the ambassadors required instructions from their government. They had first discussed the issue of the civilians Tuesday and then recessed for 48 hours.

Despite apparent failure of today's session to produce agreement, rumors persisted that the release of the American civilians could be expected soon.

Johnson denied earlier reports that he and Wang had agreed in principle on repatriation of the Americans and of an indefinite number of Chinese students. Peiping charges are detained by the United States.

The Chinese have left the impression, however, that they are ready to free the Americans and are looking for a formula on the students which would save face for them. The United States insists all Chinese who want to return to their homeland are free to go.

Kentucky Race Sees Chandler Running Again

Former Baseball Czar Seeks Nomination in Saturday's Primaries

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's fiercest political fight in years today found the two major candidates for the Democratic governor's nomination in a hard-driving finish to a furious campaign.

Saturday, Kentucky Democrats will choose between former Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, seeking to be governor again, and former Appellate Judge Bert T. Combs, making his first bid for statewide elective office with state administration backing.

The winner will run in the Nov. 8 general election. Five of the last seven governors have been Democrats.

Counting on Party Split But the Republicans are counting on factional bitterness among Democrats to put the first GOP governor in office since 1943. The term is for four years.

Running for the Republican nomination in a relatively quiet campaign are former U. S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, 51, endorsed by Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper; former U. S. senator from Kentucky, and James L. Clay, 42-year-old attorney.

Outcome of the Combs-Chandler contest will have a bearing on the political future of U. S. Sen. Earle C. Clements, acting majority leader, and the makeup of this state's delegation to the 1956 Democratic presidential nominating convention.

Power Struggle Chandler has indicated that if he's elected governor he would have an opponent face Clements in next year's primary. Thus the Chandler-Combs race represents a struggle for power between factions headed by Clements, 1947-50 governor, and Chandler, 1935-39 governor and 1939-45 U. S. senator. Each side predicted victory.

A third candidate was Jesse N. R. Cecil, several times an unsuccessful candidate.

Rest of This Week Will Be No Better, Is Prediction

Today marks the sixth straight day in which the mercury has climbed over the 90-degree mark in Marion.

At noon today, the thermometer at the local weather station read 90. On Wednesday it reached 94.

Many cities throughout Ohio and the Midwest have reported much longer etches of temperature readings 90 or higher. For example, Evansville, Ind., reported its 36th straight day with the mercury going above 90, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

ONLY REPORTED case of heat prostration here occurred Wednesday afternoon when H. B. Hane of 750 E. Church St. collapsed on the sidewalk in the downtown area. He was taken to his home in an ambulance and was reported to be all right today. Marion General Hospital officials reported they have treated no one for heat exhaustion.

Although the official temperature reading was 94 for the city yesterday, one thermometer in a shaded spot on downtown Marion read 101 about the middle of the afternoon while still another showed 103 degrees.

Residents of sections of the western part of the city yesterday afternoon were greeted with several light showers when the skies became overclouded briefly.

FBI Charges Musician, Wife Tried Extortion

Agents Claim Couple Mailed Threat Letter Asking for $100,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — FBI agents say that an unemployed musician and his blonde wife sought to extort $100,000 from a millionaire contractor whose daughter was murdered last month.

Edgar Leon Williams, 22, and his wife, Veronica, a waitress, 24, are in jail.

They were arrested Wednesday by FBI agents, who said the couple had mailed a letter to John Thompson, threatening death to his grandson unless he mailed $100,000 to a "Dale Smith." The three children are sons of Mrs. Norma McCauley, 33, who was stabbed and strangled July 5 in her nearby Bel-Air home.

Agents said a dummy package was mailed to the address given in the note. A woman at the address said there was no Smith there. The mailman returned the package to the post office.

The FBI said Mrs. Williams was arrested when she went to the post office, identified herself as Dale Smith, and asked for the package. Williams was arrested soon afterward.

FBI agents said that the Williamses apparently singled out Thompson because of the publicity resulting from his daughter's slaying.

Mrs. McCauley's former houseboy, John R. Crocker Jr., 31, is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering her.

Brink's Held Up Again but Robbery Fails

2 of 3 Bandits Caught In Buffalo Gun Battle; $160,000 Recovered

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three armed men ambushed a Brink's armored car, shot a guard and made off with $160,000 in race-track receipts Wednesday night. Two were captured after a gun battle. The loot was recovered.

The bandits, clad in silk-stocking masks and armed with a sub-machinegun, broke into the Brink's, Inc., garage and vault before the car arrived with almost $498,000 in receipts from the Fort Erie race track just across the Niagara River in Canada. Three Brink's employees were on the truck.

11-Block Chase Two of the holdup men were captured a half hour later after an 11-block running gun battle.

"I thought I was a dead man," said Eugene Clohessy, 27, the wounded guard.

"Saw 'em and pulled my .38 but before I could fire a shot the guy with the tommy gun got me in the shoulder."

Clohessy was reported in good condition at Emergency Hospital today with a chest wound.

The bandits were identified by police as Anthony Pettinato, 39, Baltimore, and Sylvester Mazella, the Bronx.

They were held without charge. An alarm was sent out for James Sheridan, alias Jim Salamemmo, of New York City.

All Have Records Pettinato and Mazella were captured in private homes. The third man, believed to have been wounded, fled around a corner, staggered into a house and told the occupant he had suffered a heart attack. A half hour later he called a taxi and escaped. Police said all three had records.

Police gave this account of the robbery: Guards Stanley J. Klotzinski, 32, Kenneth A. Kemp, 31, and Clohessy drove up to the garage and vault with the Fort Erie receipts in six strong boxes. They were met at the driveway by guard Edward J. Thompson.

Clohessy entered through a side door. He passed through four security-lock doors to a tunnel from which the main garage door is controlled.

Kemp drove into the garage. As Clohessy locked the heavy garage door, the three men entered.

Bulganin Sees Air Inspection As Unrealistic

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Bulganin today turned down as "unrealistic" President Eisenhower's plan for a swap of military blueprints and mutual air inspection of each other's territories.

The Soviet Premier's rejection of the Eisenhower plan came near the end of his 95-minute report to the Soviet people on the Geneva conference. He spoke to a special session of 1,500 deputies to the Supreme Soviet.

He made three main points about the conference: 1. Geneva helped to ease international tension. 2. The personal contact there proved fruitful. 3. It marked the beginning of putting an end to the cold war. He pledged the U.S.S.R. would do everything in its power to help to end the cold war.

He said all four powers displayed a desire at Geneva to end the cold war.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said he had shown the President news dispatches on Bulganin's turnaround and there was no comment. At the State Department, officials told reporters there was no indication that Russia had sent the U.S. a formal note rejecting the plan.

Referring to Eisenhower's plan as a step toward disarmament, Bulganin said:

"We must pay tribute to his efforts for a settlement of this question, but the real effect could not be considerable and we said in unofficial talk (at Geneva) that both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

Bulganin said the Soviet plan for arms inspection and control, published in London on May 10, and repeated by him at the Geneva conference, was "more realistic."

Agrees With Ike Bulganin said he agreed with Eisenhower that it is necessary to follow a constructive and not a negative line in world affairs.

Bulganin said in conclusion: "We will now have to find ways to resolve several outstanding issues. The foreign minister will face difficult talks but if discussions continue in the proper spirit then they should be fruitful. The Soviet Union will do everything in its power to make the forthcoming October talks between the foreign ministers of the four powers successful."

Bulganin said the Soviet government holds that conclusion of a general European treaty or the setting up of a system of collective security with the participation of all European states and the United States would be the most reliable way of insuring security for Europe.

He recalled that the U. S. S. R. delegation at Geneva urged that ultimately no foreign troops should remain on territories of European states.

Opposes Power Bloc "We are profoundly convinced that genuine security of European States can and must be assured only when an end is put to the policy of military groupings, when all European states as well as the United States join in their effort in the struggle for peace."

The Premier said new possibilities of reaching an agreement on Germany would be reviewed during the foreign ministers conference in October in Geneva and added such

Auto Crashes Into Truck, 6 People Injured

BUENOS AYRES (AP) — Six persons were sent to Buenos City Hospital early today when their car collided with a tractor and semi-trailer outfit on U. S. Route 30-N in Ocala, near here.

The car was driven by Hugo Clinton, 20, of Chicago, Ill., who was the most seriously injured. He suffered lacerations about the neck and face, a fractured left leg and possible head injuries.

Passengers in the car and the injuries they sustained are: George Alvarado, 31, of Chicago, fractured jaw, lacerations and eight teeth knocked out; Otilio Alvarado, 34, Chicago, fractured jaw, lacerations of the face and neck; Louis Lastra, 28, New York City, contusions; Antonio Santiago, 27, Chicago, lacerations of the face and neck; and Thomas Santiago, 25, New York City, lacerations of the mouth and contusions.

The driver of the truck, Guy Harmon, 51, of Bluff City, Tenn., was uninjured.

State highway patrolmen from the Bucyrus post said the accident occurred about 5:20 a.m. today when the westbound Clinton auto crashed into the eastbound truck. Patrolmen said the auto was on the wrong side of the highway. The car was demolished and the truck had damage to the left front end and the side of the tractor and trailer.

No charges have been filed.

Convicts Freed Early Prison Officials Check Files for Forgery Proof

ANGOLA, La. (AP) — Louisiana penitentiary officials today began burrowing through five years of more records for further evidence of a forgery ring that freed at least a dozen convicts before their time.

For payments of $200 to $300, convict clerks in the ring erased records and invented new ones to reduce sentences and alter crimes of inmate customers.

In one case, a man sentenced to 10 years for armed robbery had his sentence shortened to two years and his offense changed to simple burglary.

The forgeries came to light when Warden Maurice Sigler, a veteran of the federal prison system, became suspicious of a clumsy erasure on the records of a man scheduled to be freed Tuesday.

Prison officials said the convict turned out to be a contact man for the ring, soliciting business among the 3,000 inmates on the 18,000-acre prison farm.

Fugitive warrants were issued for seven men given gift reprieves by the ring. Records of all convicts in the past five years will be checked.

Three ring leaders and four others thought to be dickering for an early release were placed in solitary confinement. One had $300 in his shoe.

Special investigator Sargent Pitcher said alterations ranged from crude, hasty erasures on the folder and top sheets to complete substitution of files, including commitment papers, FBI records and prison papers.

Sometimes "consecutive" sentences were made to read "concurrent," knocking out several years interment with the change of a word.

Federal Reserve Discount Rates Raised

Administration Bidding To Prevent Rise in Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration reportedly is embarked on a policy of cutting back credit to keep prices, fairly stable for two years, from climbing.

The latest in a series of credit curbs was announced late Wednesday. Effective today, four of the 12 federal reserve banks raised the rate they charge member banks which borrow from them.

The Chicago, Boston and Atlanta banks raised the charge — called the discount rate — from 1½ to 2 per cent. Cleveland jumped from 1½ to 2½ per cent, highest in 21 years.

Increases by the other reserve banks are expected to follow soon. This move, designed as a curb on inflation, followed closely the tightening of down payment and mortgage terms on government-insured housing loans last Saturday. Also, the Federal Reserve Board and the comptroller of the currency have dispatched letters to banks cautioning against over-liberal terms on auto purchases and other installment credit. The government also has tightened up on credit buying of stocks.

Hits $600 Million Weekly The discount rate has been 1½ per cent since last April and May, when the reserve banks raised it from 1½.

A bank increases its legal reserves by borrowing from its regional reserve bank. Since the borrowing bank is required to keep $20 in reserve against every $100 loaned out, the money it receives from the reserve bank means that it can lend five times that amount to businessmen.

OWU Teacher Many Years

Dr. Rollin Walker Dies At 89 in Delaware Home

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Rollin H. Walker, first professor of the English Bible at Ohio Wesleyan University and a prominent Methodist author, died at his home today after a long illness. He would have been 90 in December.

A native of Columbus, Dr. Walker was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan in 1888 and returned in 1900 as the school's first professor of the English Bible. He retired in 1936 and made Delaware his home.

Dr. Walker was one of the best-loved of the "old professors" at OWU and was a prominent figure in the world of Methodism. For more than 11 years he wrote a weekly column, "Dr. Walker's Bible Class," in the Methodist publication, The Christian Advocate.

After his retirement, Dr. Walker spent most of his time lecturing.

Indians Beat Yankees 2-1 on Woodling's Home Run

Tribe, Bombers Only One Game Out; Chicago Loses

By The Associated Press

For a club that's just marking time, waiting for lightning to strike, those Cleveland Indians aren't doing bad at all. They haven't had a chance to catch fire yet, not with Bob Lemon ailing and Al Rosen, Larry Doby and Vic Wertz in slumps, yet Manager Al Lopez has his defending champs in a second-place tie with the New York Yankees in the brawling American League race.

On top of injuries, Lopez had to wait until little more than a month ago before he could count on Mike Garcia again. But after losing six straight, Big Mike has won five of six decisions, including a dandy four-hut job against New York for a 2-1 victory.

With Boston thumping first-place Chicago 6-4, the Indians and Yankees are just one game shy of the White Sox. Boston is three games back.

After two days of hostilities in the red hot fight for second place in the equally torrid American League pennant race, the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees have scored a total of six runs.

Tied for Second
And going into the rubber game of their three-game set in the Yankee Stadium today they're back where they started, tied for second place a game behind the Chicago White Sox.

Yesterday's 2-1 Cleveland victory was fashioned by Gene Woodling, who hit a homer against his old mates with one on, and Mike Garcia, who held the Yanks to four hits until the ninth inning.

He needed help from Don Mossi and Ray Nadeski in the ninth when Mickey Mantle opened with a single. But he had the Yanks well in check. Manager Al Lopez just wasn't taking any chances.

"I was afraid he might be losing a little something," said Lopez. "Anyway, that Yogi Berra (the next batter) always scares you in a situation like that. I felt a lot better with a left hander like Mossi pitching."

"We're in good shape physically now and won't have any excuse if we don't start winning. We appeared to snap out of the doldrums a couple of times before, but something always happened. Maybe this will be it."

Woodling, a member of five Yank championship teams from 1919 through 1933, always hit well against the Indians. He was sent to Baltimore in the Bob Turley deal and was dealt to Cleveland June 15.

First Against Yanks
"That's the first homer I ever hit against the Yanks," he grinned, accepting the congratulations of Tribe third baseman Al Rosen. "About time," said Rosen. "You hit plenty against us."

When Mossi came in, Yank Manager Casey Stengel ordered Berra to bunt in order to get Mantle into

Reds' String Stopped at 7 As Phils Win

CINCINNATI (U)—The Philadelphia Phils have scored in only one inning in the last 27 against the Cincinnati Redlegs—but, what an inning.

Six singles and three errors were put together in that one frame last night for eight runs and an 8-4 Philadelphia victory over the Reds.

It ended a seven-game Cincinnati winning streak and prevented the Rhinelanders from moving to within a whisker of fourth place in the National League.

It also gave Robin Roberts his 17th pitching triumph of the season.

The Reds romped into a 3-0 lead off Roberts and seemed well on their way to a fourth straight victory over the Phils as Jackie Collum held the Phils to one hit through the first five innings.

Then both the pitching and fielding went haywire. Six singles and errors by Milt Smith, Collum and Johnny Temple gave the Phils their eight runs. They were helped along, too, by a couple of late throws to bases.

Herschel Freeman failed to get a man out after he relieved Collum in that inning and it took Gerry Staley to get the side out.

After that the game was hopelessly lost.

The Reds had scored their first two runs in the second on a walk to Gus Bell and singles by Roy McMillan. Collum and Temple Smith's single was the only hit in the fourth as the Redlegs got another tally. There also was a sacrifice, fielder's choice, in which all hands were safe, a sacrifice, an error and a sacrifice fly.

Temple's single and Wally Post's double were sandwiched around a passed ball and an infield out for the final Red run in the seventh.

The protracted series with the Phils was to end today with a single game and the Redlegs were due to face a native Cincinnati—Herman Wehmeier. Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he would pitch either Joe Black or Don Gross.

Fourth in Row Won by Local In Softball Play

Local 1949, Erie and Telephone were winners in Industrial League No. 2 play last night at Garfield Park.

Local 1949, pace-setters in second-round action, made it four straight without loss by whipping Fairfield 14-6 in the only game played last night at Garfield.

Both Erie and Telephone were awarded forfeit victories, Erie over Polak Steel and Telephone from Eaton.

Local 1949 scored in every inning but one to beat Fairfield. Green held the losers to four hits while Local 1949 was clubbing out 15 off Gottfried of Fairfield.

The winners scored five times in the first, once in the second, four times in the third, once in the fourth, once in the fifth and twice in the seventh while Fairfield scored five markers in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Smith led the Local 1949 attack with three hits while Hensel homered.

PITCHER TAKES IT EASY. Dick Donovan, Chicago White Sox rookie pitcher who underwent an appendectomy, autographs baseball for nurse Irene Besonis at Chicago. Donovan, one of best rookie pitchers in American League, will be sidelined to league-leading White Sox for about a month.

Havana Wins 5 In Row Against Columbus Jets

By The Associated Press

Everytime the Havana Sugar Kings return to their home base they make it tough on the rest of the International League contenders.

The Cubans returned from a road trip about two weeks ago 7½ games behind the pace setting Toronto Maple Leafs. Since then Havana has won nine straight and cut the deficit to two games. The Cubans took their 9th in a row and fifth straight from the Columbus Jets last night by edging the Jets 8-7 in 14 innings.

Meanwhile, the Montreal Royals moved to within 1½ games of the Leafs with a 4-3 victory over the Buffalo Bisons, as Toronto dropped a 2-1 decision to the Rochester Red Wings. Bob Habenicht, pitching with two days rest, hurled the Richmond Virginians to a 4-2 victory over the Syracuse Chiefs.

Columbus and Havana were scheduled to play a doubleheader but the second game was called after three innings with Columbus ahead 2-1. It will be replayed to night as part of a twin bill.

Scott Frost Is Hambletonian Racing Winner

GOSHEN, N. Y. (U)—Scott Frost is the toast of the trotting world after winning the 30th Hambletonian Wednesday, but he couldn't quite match his sire's 1947 performance as he whirled around Good Time Park's triangular-shaped track in 2:01 3-5 and 2:00 3-5 for a straight heat victory.

Hoot Mon won the 1947 race in two minutes flat, but his son Scott Frost's second heat time was the second fastest in the history of the Kentucky Derby of trotting.

Hoot Mon-Scott Frost is the first father-son combination ever to put together a double in the rich event.

Hoot Mon sired Helicopter, a fully which carried off the 1933 honors. Scott Frost took the first mile by a half-length from Mrs. Charlotte S. De Van's Leopold Hanover and then edged William T. Maybury's Galophone by a head in the second heat.

The victory was worth $51,075.63.

Browns Work Minus Graham At Quarterback

HIRAM, Ohio (U)—Next week in Chicago against the College All-Stars, the Cleveland Browns, champions of pro football, begin finding out how well they can get along without Otto Graham.

For two weeks the Browns have been at work here without the quarterback whose passes keyed the club's offensive successes for nine seasons. During those two weeks the feeling has grown that Otto will be back, forsaking the retirement he announced last winter.

Graham will be 34 on Dec. 6, but he has no physical disabilities from his long gridiron career, and his performance last season was one of his greatest. He also commands one of pro football's biggest salaries, reportedly around $22,000.

Otto says he won't come back unless the Browns need him. The need could develop long in advance of the first National Football League game, because coach Paul Brown has only two quarterbacks on his present 43-man squad—George Ratterman and rookie Bobby Freeman.

Ratterman, who quarterbacked the College All-Stars to a 16-0 victory over the Chicago Bears in 1947 and set up both touchdowns with his passes, is the heir-apparent to Graham's job. He is now in his fourth season with the club and his ninth in pro football.

Freeman, his brilliant college record notwithstanding, is unlikely to see much action this season. Past experience shows it takes several years to develop even the most talented rookie into a pro quarterback.

There is the further possibility that Freeman might be legally barred from continuing practice or play with the Browns. A federal court hearing opens here today on a petition by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers to enjoin Freeman from playing with Cleveland on grounds he had contracted to play in the Canadian Football League.

VFW Wins Pony League Crown for Second Round

VFW walked off with the second round Pony League title last night at Lincoln Park.

The first round runners-up edged

Clark.

The winners scored twice in the first, thrice in the third and once in the fifth for a 6-3 bulge over Clark which netted one run in the first and two in the third. Clark came up with three in the bottom of the seventh to knot the score, forcing G & G to win it in the eighth.

Conkle started for the winners but the triumph went to Crest. They were touched for 10 hits, struck out seven and walked two. Bailey was the Clark hurler. He permitted nine hits, fanned eight and walked 10.

Middleton and Conkle both collected three hits while Roberson banged out two for the G & G squad. Evans and Messenger were Clark's heavy hitters with four hits apiece.

VFW AND G AND G HOMES.

closing out regular season play along with Alloy and Clark last night, began their best two-out-of-three games series for the city Pony League championship Monday night.

VFW picked up an early cushion, then hung on for the win over Alloy.

The losers scored twice on two hits in the second off Mike Chamberlain but VFW came back with three tallies on three hits in the bottom of the same frame and scored two more times in the third on only one hit for a 5-2 edge.

Alloy scored single runs in the fourth and sixth frames to fall short by one.

Both squads collected six hits off the opposition. Chamberlain hurled the first five frames for VFW, with Steve Flesher coming on in the sixth and finishing up. Chamberlain gave up three runs, five hits, struck out seven and walked two.

Flesher was touched for one run, one hit, struck out five and walked two.

JIM HOUGH started for Alloy, gave way to Jodie Lenavitt in the third and then came back in the fourth to finish up. Hough struck out four, walked six and was tagged for three runs and five hits. Lenavitt in one inning fanned one, walked one, and gave up two runs and one hit.

Flesher and Rouse both had two hits for the winners. One of Rouse's was a triple which drove in two second-inning runs. Kelly had three hits for Alloy while Lenavitt collected two.

Called Most Valuable Player

Klaus Given Much Credit for Boston's Rise in American League Flag Chase

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (U)—As the upstart Boston Red Sox roll along, scoring the daylights out of the White Sox, Yankees and Indians, there are various theories as to what makes them win.

A great deal of credit, of course, is given to Ted Williams, baseball's greatest hitter, and Mike Huggins, who is proving himself to be a sound manager.

It is surprising, however, how many veteran observers are convinced the real spark plug of the Red Sox is an unheralded, unwanted and undismayed Billy Klaus.

A writer who has been with the Red Sox from the start of the season says, "Right now he's the most valuable player on the Red Sox. It's not a coincidence that we started our climb the day he took over the regular shortstop job (That was on June 5)."

"Since then the Red Sox won 40 out of 53 (through games of Sunday, July 31). Not only has Klaus played a magnificent game in the field but his hitting has been deadly. He's a pesky batter who hits to all fields."

A veteran of eight years in the minor leagues, Klaus was discarded by both the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants. It was Huggins who endorsed his purchase from Minneapolis last winter.

"I've seen Klaus play three years in the American Assn and I know he can help the Red Sox," Mike recommended.

His just below 300 average is higher than he hit in four triple-A seasons. During one stretch, he hit safely in 26 of 27 games.

The least excited about Klaus' exploits has been Klaus himself.

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Mike Garcia, Indians, gave just four hits, one a leadoff single in the ninth, before giving way to relief in 2-1 victory over Yankees.

Hitting—Gil Hodges, Dodgers, belted two home runs for six RBI's, one a grand slam clout, in 9-1 decision over Braves.

"I always thought I could make good if I was given the opportunity," the former Fox Hill, Ill., milkman said. "When I was with the Braves in Boston and Milwaukee, I didn't have a chance. All I had to beat out were Eddie Mathews at third and Johnny Logan at shortstop. Then when I was with the Giants, I had Alvin Dark and Henry Thompson ahead of me."

100 Coaches at Clinic

High School Grid Stars Train for Aug. 12 Battle

By FRITZ HOWELL

MANSFIELD, Ohio (U)—Coaches from 20 states—many of them college mentors seeking a look at Ohio's top-flight scholastic grid talent—are among the early registrants for next week's tenth annual clinic and north-south all-star game.

Bob McNea, head coach of the host Mansfield Tigers, said 100 men, who had filed reservations for the week-long coaching school to be climaxed the night of Aug. 12 by the Rebel-Yankee clash, and that he expected the registration to surpass by far the 240 mark set last year at Springfield.

Meanwhile the 50 high school stars—25 from the north and 25 from the south—were beginning to take shape for the fray in which each side has won four and tied one.

The talent gathered from everywhere, bears great resemblance to last fall's Associated Press All-Ohio squad. Of the 50 players, 42 were honored by The Associated Press, with 15 of the first 22 All-Ohio getting spots on the all-star squads. Several named by The Associated Press were undergraduates and ineligible for the north-south game, and two first-stringers selected turned down the invitation.

The northern squad, coached by Mel Knowlton of Alliance, Seraph Pope of Lima Central, Ralph Robinette of Youngstown Raven and Herb Redding of Gibsonburg, is a talent-laden outfit out for its third straight victory.

Knowlton and his aides started shifting players yesterday in hopes of putting their most formidable array on the field. John Compara, Canton McKinley's first-string All-Ohio tackle, was shifted to guard, Ron Toth, Cleveland Cathedral Latin's all-state fullback, shifted to right half, and Clayborn Gules, Warren's fine fullback, shifted to end. That left the fullback job with Don Clark of Akron Central in the No. 1 spot.

Battling Toth for the right halfback spot is Wilmer Fowler of Mansfield, while the left halfback job has Tom Barnett of Alliance and Jack Thompson of Toledo Waite as the top competitors.

The north practiced for an hour and a half in yesterday's intense heat, while the south went for two hours under the direction of head coach Larry Peterson of Lancaster and his aides, Howe Thomas of Cincinnati Hughes, Paul Keltner of Cambridge, and Mary McCallum of Seven Mile.

Bill Neal, Columbus Grandview tackle who suffered a head injury Tuesday, was going full tilt yesterday, but coach Peterson was a casualty. The mentor suffered an attack of laryngitis and couldn't talk above a whisper, but stayed on the job as the rebels battled for starting positions. Dick Talenko, Cleveland Cathedral Latin guard, missed the first couple of days practice and was about to surrender his coveted spot to alternate Joe Holloway of Massillon Talenko was playing in the American Legion baseball tournament at Columbus, but his team was eliminated yesterday and he was expected to report here this morning.

Golfers Wreck Par To Enter Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO (U)—Golf's big shots were posed today for a par wrecking onslaught at the 6,915 yard Tam O'Shanter course in the main section of the All-American Tournament, a $25,000 preview of next week's "World Championship."

The "World" guarantees the winner $50,000 in cash and $35,000 for 55 exhibition dates.

Running simultaneously with the men pro section are 72 hole medal play tournaments for men amateurs, women pros and women amateurs.

Typical of the par bombarding in prospect came a qualifying round of 300 lesser known pros gunning for places left open after 76 of their better known colleagues were exempted from the trials.

Leading the qualifiers was 27-year-old Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., who slammed a 7-under-par 63. Bob Gajda of Detroit and Herman Keiser each had 66. In all, 34 fired 70 or better.

Golf Match Leader Is Son of Ball Star

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (U)—Ray Terry, son of baseball Hall of Fame Bill Terry, has taken a three stroke lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole World Wide Air Force golf tournament. The 22-year-old Jacksonville, Fla. amateur posted a two-under-par 68 here Wednesday in moving further ahead of the field. He wound up the day with a 36-hole total of 139, compared with 142 for runnerup Lt. William T. Morrow, of Shreveport, La.

Two Unbeaten Teams Clash in State Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Cincinnati and Toledo, only remaining unbeaten teams in the Ohio American Legion junior baseball tournament, met head-on in today's morning round of the double-elimination affair.

Toledo had won three games since the tourney opened Monday. Cincinnati had two victories.

Toledo turned back previously unbeaten Zanesville, 5-3, yesterday while Cincinnati drew a bye.

Today, once-beaten Newark drew a bye in the morning round. Other games pitted Zanesville against Akron and Portsmouth against St. Marys.

Pairings for today's afternoon round were not to be announced until after the morning session. Toledo pitcher Carl Farkas turned in a nifty relief job yesterday after coming on in the sixth inning to protect a 4-3 lead. Teammate Fred Zaleski doubled twice, while Zanesville's Roger Best and Joe Corbin also had two hits apiece.

The losers outfit Toledo, 8-6, but Farkas was tough with men on base as three hits Zanesville picked up off him were wasted.

Stauberville, Cleveland, Mansfield and Lancaster bowed yesterday and were eliminated. Berkey, Warren and Brookville were ousted after Tuesday's play.

St. Marys edged Stauberville, 11-10. Newark beat Cleveland, 10-5. Akron blasted Mansfield, 10-1, and Portsmouth beat Lancaster, 7-4.

Loses to Hamilton 8-3

Marion's Little League Nine Dropped From Tourney Play

Marion's National League All Stars came to the end of their prolonged season last night at Urbana.

They bowed to Hamilton Linden Wald 8-3 in the finals of the district Little League tournament and lost an opportunity to move into state play at Canton.

A FIVE-RUN sixth gave Hamilton the win.

Single runs, all on two hits, in the first, third and fourth frames shoved Hamilton ahead 3-0 but Marion came back to knot the score with three markers in the fourth.

Tom Prichard started the Marion rally by leading off with a single. In between outs, Jon Wilson reached base on a fielder's choice. Prichard scored on an error after moving to third on a pair of passed balls. Wilson reached second on an error, moved to third on an infield out by Tom Larkin. Larry Sanders, second of three Marion hurlers, and Ken Coffee walked. George Kirk connected for a pinch-hit single to drive in both Wilson and Sanders.

WITH THE exception of the fourth, the losers were held to one other hit—a third-inning safety by Ned Porter.

Hamilton's winning margin in the sixth came on five hits. Butsch led off the frame with a double, took third on an error and came across with the tie-breaking run on a passed ball. Then with two out, Yarger drew a walk. Nixon singled and Milligan drove them both home with a two-bagger. Stuhlmueller cracked a homer for the final two markers.

The winners had scored in the first on a single by Pitcher Dwight

Skipper, passed ball and single by Hixon. In the third, a walk, a single by Hixon and a passed ball brought in run No. 2. Urban led off the fourth with a home run.

URBAN'S BLOW chased Marion starter Doug Beaver and brought in Sanders. He gave way to George Kirk in the sixth.

The winners collected 13 hits off the three Marion hurlers. Beaver was charged with three runs, six hits and fanned four while walking two. Sanders gave up five runs, six hits, fanned four and walked three. Kirk surrendered a hit and struck out one.

Hixon had three hits while Skipper, Stuhlmueller, Urban and Butsch all collected two for the winners.

Marion had advanced to the finals Tuesday afternoon with a 4-3 win over Northwestern All-Stars.

Crawford Fair Races Start

Horses From Mt. Vernon, Marysville Win Features

BUCYRUS — Bright Ensign, a bay colt, owned and driven by Roy Near of Marysville, took both heats in the 2-year-old pace stakes at the opening harness racing program of the Crawford County Fair here Wednesday afternoon.

The 2-year-old trot stakes was won by Fleetroy, a bay colt, driven by Dick Buxton and owned by Barton W. Blair of Mount Vernon. Fleetroy finished second in the opening heat and on top in the second heat, winning the race trophy by virtue of its faster time.

Both races carried $1,000 purses.

The intense heat held the crowd down with the grandstand being about two-thirds filled for the four and one-half hour program. Because of the large number of entries in the 30 pace and 30 trot events, the two races were broken down into two divisions with a $450 purse in each division.

IN THE 30 PACE, the first division winner was Glendale Gary, a bay colt, piloted by Bob Drumm and owned by William Morrison of Mount Cory. The colt took both heats. Second division race winner was Haroldwin, driven by L. Fortney and owned by the Miller Motor Sales at Fremont. Haroldwin finished second in the first heat and topped the second round.

Grand Mary Volo, a black mare, owned and driven by Howard Rutter of Bowling Green, was winner of the first division of the 30 trot. Samson Vee, owned and driven by R. B. Shafer, Hoytville, paid $22.80 in winning the first heat but Grand Mary Volo, which finished fourth in the opening run, came back to take the second heat while Samson Vee dropped back to sixth. Winner of both heats in the second division of the 30 trot was Power Plus, a brown gelding, owned and piloted by E. A. Scherler of Lakewood.

RACING UNDER the lights will take place tonight. The card includes a 3-year-old trot and 3-year-old pace, both closed stakes events with $1,000 purses; 18 trot and 17 pace, each with $600 purses. Night races also are scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

Trophies yesterday were donated by the Pickwick Farms, Lott Motor Co., Bucyrus American Legion Post, Bucyrus Ice Co. and Bucyrus Materials Co.

Marion area horses, which participated in the opening day card but failed to place in the money, included Leland Watson's Hi-Lo's Shelia, Maude Ellen Volo of the Idle Hour Stables, Just Wick, owned by Damon E. Ledley, all of Marion.

Good Luck Pick, owned by Melvin and Alva Derr of Marysville, placed third in the opening heat of the 2-year-old pace and Doctor Pick, leased and driven by L. H. Matthews of Nevada, finished 3-2 in the first division of the 30 trot.

Succeeds John Waters

James Thatcher Is New Wildlife Agent in County

Taking over the duties of wildlife management agent in Marion County this month is James Thatcher, who comes here from southern Ohio. Thatcher was named to succeed John Waters, former agent here, who was transferred to northeastern Ohio. Waters was here one year, replacing O. H. Neimeyer who died.

Thatcher has been employed since graduation from Ohio State University by the fish management section of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Most of his work has been in Pike County where he was working with a muskellunge project at Kincaid Fish Farm. He has been there for the last 18 months.

Thatcher, with his wife and two-week-old son, has moved into the house at Owens Station formerly occupied by Waters.

He is enthusiastic about his new appointment. His main duties are threefold, he says. They consist of game management, fish management and game law enforcement. He said the first two items are more important to him than making arrests.

This is Thatcher's first full-time county-wide job. He was graduated from Ohio State University in June, 1953 with a Bachelor of Science Degree in wildlife conservation. While attending college, he worked

Navy Project To Probe Stratosphere

Rocket Show Competes With Satellite

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter
COPENHAGEN (U.S.)—Those projected "basketball moons" are in for some stiff competition from a year-long scientific rocket show.

A U.S. Naval Research Laboratory rocketeer indicated this today in a report to the sixth International Astronautical Federation Congress.

Dr. Homer E. Newell Jr., of Washington, D.C., said the United States is planning its most ambitious program to date in rocket exploration during 1957-58 of the earth's upper atmosphere to a height of almost 190 miles.

These will be instrument-carrying rockets that will go up and come down rather than rockets designed to propel an artificial satellite into a temporary orbit around the earth. Virtually all information obtained will be radioed back to earth.

Approximately 150 such rockets will be fired by the United States from sites extending from the Equator to the north polar regions, he said. He added that France also has definite plans, and that England, Australia, India and Japan have expressed interest in joining the show.

The rocket barrage will be part of the International Geophysical year during which approximately 40 nations, including Russia, will join in a cooperative scientific effort designed to wrest unsolved secrets from mother earth, her oceans and the atmosphere enveloping her.

Newell made no reference to the projected "artificial satellite" program announced by the White

Ranger Cites Nude Pair For Having Illegal Fire

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (U.S.)—Miss Ethel Wheeler, a U.S. Forestry Service lookout, swept her binoculars over Santa Ynez Peak Wednesday looking for a fire. Suddenly she froze.

The glasses focused on a young couple dancing in the nude around a camp fire. The man was playing a violin, Miss Wheeler said, and his companion made ballet-like leaps.

Miss Wheeler telephoned Forestry Service Patrolman Everett Marshall, who hiked up and cited the couple — for having an open fire in a prohibited area.

Equipment Identified

A box of medical laboratory equipment found in a box in weeds near the Treaty Co. at 1111 N. Main St. Tuesday afternoon belonged to the Smith Clinic, the sheriff's office reported this morning.

Clinic officials identified the items as having been missed from their laboratory. The equipment had not been damaged in any way.

State Receives Sheppard Case Bill for $4,425

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State of Ohio today got its biggest bill in recent years for expenses of a trial—last fall's murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The bill was for $4,425.08. It represents the charges Cuyahoga County can pass on to the state in connection with the celebrated trial which ended in Dr. Sheppard's conviction on a charge of second-degree murder in the July 4, 1954, bludgeon murder of his wife, Marilyn.

The Cuyahoga County clerk noted on the bill submitted to State Auditor James A. Rhodes that the sheriff had certified to him that Dr. Sheppard had no real or personal property on which the state could levy for the trial costs. If a convicted person has money or property, the state can make him pay the costs of his own trial.

Rhodes noted Cuyahoga County had 24 other first and second-degree murders in 1954 in which convictions were obtained. The bill to the state for all 24 was only $7,555. The most expensive of these cost Ohio $1,278.

Included in the bill to the state was $2,940 in jurors' fees at $5 a day and $374.90 in fees and mileage for 19 witnesses at $3 a day.

Absent from the list of witnesses who collected fees, however, was the name of Miss Susan Hayes, one of the state's chief witnesses. Both she and Dr. Sheppard admitted in court that they conducted an affair for months before Mrs. Sheppard was found slain.

Other items in the county's bill to the state covered such things as expenses for both the sheriff and the clerk of courts. Rhodes emphasized the bill to the state was only a fraction of the total cost.

Dr. Sheppard came to Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus only a fortnight ago to begin a life sentence. He had been in Cuyahoga County jail since his conviction Dec. 22 pending disposition of his motion for a new trial and an appeal to the Court of Appeals.

Weather

No rain fell in the rest of the city.

STILL NO immediate relief from the summer's longest and most severe heat wave is in sight. More hot and humid weather is expected for the rest of this week.

Temperatures today in Ohio were expected to range between 94 and 100 with the forecast reading mostly fair and continued hot tonight and Friday except for a few isolated afternoon or evening thundershowers.

Some 50 deaths have been attributed to the hot weather, most of them in the scorched Midwest. Five Washington, D. C. area men were stricken with heat exhaustion Wednesday.

Cool air in the northern Rockies and northern Maine dropped temperatures into the 40s. The cool front moved into northern Minnesota and western South Dakota and was expected to bring a measure of relief to northern Midwest areas.

Annual Street Treating Program Started Here

Annual street treating program of selected city streets got under way this morning, Safety-Service Director John Davis announced.

First street to be treated was the extension of Olney Ave. south from Bellefontaine Ave. The city crews doing the work are to move next to Franconia Ave.

In all a total of more than 20 miles of streets will be surface treated this year, Davis said.

Weather Report

Mostly fair and continued hot today, tonight and Friday except for a few isolated afternoon or evening thundershowers. High 94-100, low tonight 70-77.

Russians

possibilities should not be considered exhausted.

The Soviet plan for arms control and inspection which Bulgarian declared more realistic than Eisenhower's calls broadly for immediate withdrawal of the bulk of the foreign forces from both East and West Germany and prohibition of atomic weapons as part of an overall peace plan.

List 3 Points

Further, the Russians listed these specific points as necessary to "free humanity from the threat of a new destructive war":

1. Full prohibition of the use and production of nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction and diversion of this force to peaceful aims.

2. A considerable reduction of all armed forces and conventional armaments. The United States, Soviet Russia and Communist China would be limited to armed forces of 1 1/2 million men each and smaller quotas would be fixed for other powers.

3. Setting up of a control organ with authority guaranteeing effective observation by all countries of this prohibition and reduction.

As to the problem of Germany, Bulgarian said:

"When discussing the German problem two different approaches were displayed at the Geneva conference. The problem is whether the development of West Germany will answer the interest of peace or if it will adopt the policy of militarization."

The three Western powers did not conceal the fact that they wanted to draw a unified Germany into a military bloc.

Can't Accept View

"It is clear that the Soviet government could not and cannot agree with such a point of view, for this point of view is directed against the security of the people of the Soviet Union, which we must not ignore."

As regards international communism, which he said "in certain quarters is the accepted bogey to frighten naive persons," Bulgarian said:

"We have stated that the Geneva conference was convened to discuss problems of relations among states, not to discuss either the activities of these or other political parties in various countries or the relations among these parties."

Opens New Page

He said all four powers displayed a desire at Geneva to end the cold war.

He told 1,500 deputies assembled from all over the Soviet Union that the Geneva parley "ranks as an important historic event since it opens a new page in relations between the U.S.S.R., the United States, Great Britain and France."

Bulgarian said that at Geneva "the heads of the four powers established personal contacts, official and unofficial, in an atmosphere of cooperation and mutual understanding."

"Moreover," he continued, "this should be looked upon with satisfaction: All four powers displayed a desire to put an end to the cold war."

Sought Conference

Bulgarian said the Soviet Union had been working for such a conference for a long time in order to lower international tension. He said the Soviet Union was motivated by the principles of Leninism calling for peaceful coexistence between states of different economic and political systems and a struggle for peace.

"We started from the fact," he declared, "that a peaceful policy fully answered the demands of the peoples of the Soviet Union and of all peoples interested in lessening international tension."

Took Measures

Despite the fact that the past 10 years have been marked by a sharpening of international tension, the Premier added, "The Soviet Union took measures to end the war."

The deputies will debate Bulgarian's report Friday. They will also approve actions taken by the Cabinet and the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet in the period since the last meeting of the Supreme Soviet in February. The Presidium acts for the Supreme Soviet between sessions.

Pair of Young Boys Gets Ringside Seat

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—John W. Doll, 13, and his friend Anthony Maggio, 16, were walking past the Brink's, Inc., garage Wednesday night when they saw a man climbing out of a window.

Doll said they thought he was a guard.

"I asked him what he was doing," the boy said. "I thought he was fixing a window."

"He said, 'Why, we're robbing Brink's, sonny,'" Doll said. "He kind of laughed when he told me he was robbing the place, and I thought it was a joke."

"When I saw the other two men come out with guns . . . I knew he hadn't been joking . . ."

"Tony and I ducked behind a parked jeep and stayed down until the shooting was over."

Brink's

door, the others began to unload the locked boxes.

Heavily Armed

The three bandits leaped from behind a parked armored truck. They covered the guards with a submachinegun, a carbine and a pistol.

"All right, line up against the wall," one ordered. "We mean business. We'll blow your brains out."

Clothesly opened the security turret door and was sent reeling back by a machine-gun slug.

He slammed the bulletproof door and sounded a telegraph alarm that summoned police and private police agencies.

The bandits shoved two money boxes out of a window, disarmed the captive guards and leaped out. Clothesly opened the security turret and handed Thompson his gun. Kemp ripped a pistol from an arms locker and Klotzinski retrieved his gun from the truck.

They found one of the money boxes on the sidewalk and the second one a block away.

The money boxes were heavy and bulky, or the gunmen apparently would have attempted to make off with more of the money.

Car Won't Start

The bandits commandeered a car but it wouldn't start. Then they turned to an automobile driven by Edward Craven, 42. He was riding with his wife Ruth, 41, and daughter Eileen, 10.

One of the bandits told Mrs. Craven: "Don't worry, lady, we won't hurt you. We need a car and we'll have it back to you in a little while."

The pursuing guards turned in to the street at this moment and opened fire. They pursued the car and exhausted their ammunition. Then a police car joined the chase.

The cars squealed into a narrow street of Buffalo's lower West Side, where the bandits leaped out and scattered.

Pettinato ran into a back yard and asked Mrs. Angelo Alba to hide him. She refused and fled. He went into her cellar. He surrendered meekly to police, who pursued him.

Mazella dashed into a basement on the opposite side of the street. He was flushed out with tear gas.

Sheridan fled down the street and around a corner.

Another Brink's holdup, at Boston, Jan. 17, 1950, was the largest cash haul in the nation's history. Bandits escaped with $1,219,000 in cash and none of it was recovered. No convictions were obtained.

They deny this and say they have provided, and Combs will continue, "progressive leadership."

ing and writing. His books include:

"Picturesque Interview With Jesus," "A Study of Genesis and Exodus," "A Study of John's Gospel," "A Study of Luke's Gospel," "Men Unafraid," "Jesus and Our Pressing Problems," "Paul's Secret of Power," "The Modern Message of the Psalms," and "The Old Testament and Modern Life."

Many of his writings have been translated into Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Spanish and one of the languages of India.

Studied Abroad

Dr. Walker received his S.T.B. degree in 1932 and his Ph.D. degree in 1938 from Boston University. He also studied two years in England and Scotland and later at the University of Halle in Germany and at Zurich University in Switzerland.

Before he joined the Ohio Wesleyan faculty, he taught at the Folz Mission Institute, Herkimer, N. Y., for three years, then traveled through China, Japan and Korea studying missions.

Dr. Walker's keen sense of humor made him a legendary figure in town and on the campus. When asked, "How are you, Dr. Walker?" he would almost always reply, "Almost dead, thank you, but what more can you expect from an old man of 89?"

He sometimes added, "It won't be long until I am a freshman in the 'other country.' Then I hope to learn something about the Bible."

Many Worthy Causes

Dr. Walker devoted his life to worthy students and to worthy causes. It is said on good authority that he contributed more in money to Ohio Wesleyan than he had been paid in salary there. He was a member of Asbury Methodist Church in Delaware.

A bachelor, Dr. Walker is survived by several cousins Mrs. W. S. Pollock, Charles and Lonnie Denison, Clara Denison Taile, Leonard Hough, and Miss Catherine Hough.

Funeral arrangements were not completed. University authorities said they were trying to contact Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president on leave from the university, now at Washington as director of the Office of Defense Mobilization. Dr. Walker had requested that Dr. Flemming preach his funeral sermon.

Dr. Flemming said in Washington he will fly here to preach the funeral service at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Asbury Methodist Church.

Friends may call at the Ramsey, Bennett and Brown funeral home in Delaware after 3 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in Greenlawn Cemetery, Columbus.

Prices

Member banks recently have been borrowing as much as 600 million dollars a week from the reserve institutions, although the level dropped to 395 million dollars in the week ended July 27.

By making it more costly to borrow, the reserve banks hope to discourage what one official called "excesses" of borrowing — sometimes for speculative purposes — without unduly tightening up credit for legitimate business needs such as building up stocks for Christmas business.

Officials have been concerned over the rapid rise in bank credit extended to consumers. The total expanded by about one billion dollars in the first half of this year, mostly in the form of installment credit on auto purchases. Total consumer credit outstanding is at a new high, and auto easy-payment loans have gone to new peaks for the last six months in a row.

Crawford Fair Has 'Kids' Day'

Officials Would Like A Little Less Heat

BUCYRUS — Today was "Kids' Day" at the Crawford County Fair with prices reduced on all rides along the midway and a pony show and pony races scheduled for this afternoon as a special treat for the youngsters.

As the fair entered the third day of its five-day run, fair officials were hopeful that temperatures would not climb again into the 90's. One veteran fair board member recalled that a few years ago when the fair was held in September, the board received numerous complaints from fair patrons that the weather was too chilly at night.

"We'd welcome a little of that nippy weather this week," the fair veteran wistfully recalled.

The grandstand was about two-thirds filled for yesterday's harness racing program, the only daytime racing card of the fair.

The trotters and pacers will run under the lights tonight, Friday and Saturday. Tonight's card includes a 3-year-old trot, 3-year-old pace, both closed stakes events with $1,000 purses, 18 trot and 17 pace, each with $600 purses.

Steele's Frontier Days Show was the highlight of last night's grandstand program. A concert was presented by the Bucyrus High School Band.

Playing for tonight's racing program will be the Galton High School Band.

Wife of Freed Flier Still Can't Decide on Mate

CISCO GROVE, Calif. (AP)—Red-haired Una Schmidt Fine, who said she remembered believing her airman husband was dead, is "tickled that Dan is returning."

But she added Wednesday she hasn't decided whether to remain with Alford Fine, a logger in this high sierra country, or return to Daniel Schmidt, Redding, Calif., one of the 11 American airmen freed Wednesday by the Chinese Reds.

Then she and Fine left in their cabin trailer in the direction of Reno.

In Hong Kong, newsmen were forbidden to mention Una's remarriage to Schmidt, who presumably hasn't heard of it.

The slender, 20-year-old woman married Schmidt five weeks before he was sent overseas more than three years ago. She bore his child, Daniel Jr., 2 1/2.

She said she married Fine in Mexico last September after she was notified that Schmidt was missing in action.

in hot showers. Lathering his face, Arnold shouted, "Smell this good soap." They bounced on foam rubber mattresses and white percale sheets.

In new uniforms, they ate steak so lustily they yelled a warning. "You're going to be sick."

And another replied: "I don't give a damn if I do get sick. Nothing could spoil this."

Capt. Eugene John Vaadi, Clayton, N.Y., told how they first learned they would be freed.

"Last Sunday night, they came to get us. They told us they were going to have a party. They took us to a room and there they told us we would be released at once. An hour later, at 10 o'clock Sunday night, we got on a train at Peiping."

Airman Daniel C. Schmidt, Redding, Calif., whose wife had remarried in belief he was dead, heard no mention of it. Newsmen were under strict orders not to let slip any hint because doctors warned against possible shock.

Lt. Col. O. W. D. Simpson, Smithfield, Va., U. S. air attaché in Hong Kong, strode nearly to the far end of the 200-foot border bridge to greet the men:

Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn, Missoula, Mont.; Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Banks, Ala.; Lt. John W. Buck, Armathwaite, Tenn.; Sgt. Howard W. Brown, St. Paul, Minn.; Airman Steven E. Kiba, Akron, Ohio; Airman Harry M. Benjamin Jr., Worthington, Minn.; Airman John W. Thompson III, Orange, Va.; Arnold; Baumer; Vaadi; and Schmidt.

Welcome Group

Simpson welcomed them "in the name of the United States government, the American people and the U. S. Air Force."

In a formal greeting, U.S. Consul General Everett Drumright expressed an official view in declaring, "You were only doing your duty as part of the United Nations effort to repel aggression in Korea when you were captured."

He said: "On behalf of your government and your loved ones, I have great pleasure in welcoming your safe arrival here on free and friendly soil . . ."

"I salute you for your gallantry, your devotion to duty and your steadfastness in the face of prolonged and unwarranted detention."

JACK C. TOBIN

Native of Marion To Become Officer Of Hawaii Airlines

A Marion native, Jack C. Tobin, associated with United Airlines as district sales manager for Hawaii, will join Hawaiian Airlines Oct. 1 as vice president in charge of sales. It was announced today by Arthur D. Lewis, president of the airline.

Tobin joined United Airlines in 1941 following his graduation from the University of Southern California. He was U.A.L. southern district sales manager with headquarters in Dallas, Tex., before going to Hawaii as district sales manager in September, 1954. Prior to that he had been reservations technician, work analyst and reservations manager for U.A.L. at Denver, New York and Chicago.

In 1949, he was voted one of Chicago's "outstanding young men" by the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was awarded U.A.L.'s "outstanding salesman's" prize in 1951.

Mr. Tobin is the son of Mrs. Tom Coblentz of Los Angeles, Calif. His father, Paul Tobin, died in 1941. He has a number of uncles, aunts and cousins in Marion.

One of these days he may be your competitor. If he is, look out! He'll be a good one. He's learning his business lessons now. He's a real manager. He'll be a successful man someday. That's why we're so proud of this boy. Blame us?

Oregon Foresters Plan Rodent Fight

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Chemically treated seed will be used to control rodents which have been banking on tree seed in the Oregon Douglas fir belt, the state forestry department announced.

Treatment of seed with tetramethylene disulpho - tetramide applied to Douglas fir seed. The chemical, which foresters call by the shorter name, "tetramine," is many times more effective than 1000 sodium fluoroacetate previously used to treat outdoor areas before aerial seeding to keep Oregon's number one industry, logging and lumbering, going.

Foresters say cutover forest lands cannot be seeded aerially until rodents such as deer mice, jumping mice and shrews are controlled. All are great consumers of tree seed. The shrew is capable of eating almost twice its weight in tree seeds every 24 hours.

Home Purchasing in U.S. Increased by Newlyweds

CHICAGO (UP)—More newlyweds own their own homes than ever before in the history of the country, due to credit buying, according to Richard Nelson, a real estate research man.

Nelson said: "Homes are becoming directly competitive with apartments in view of the low down payments and long period of amortization which makes it possible for a young couple with very little liquid savings to buy a house on their own," he said.

Figures show that between 10 and 20 per cent of the newlyweds plan on their own homes in preference to renting, Nelson said.

Methods in High School Are Scored by Professor

MILWAUKEE (UP)—A university professor says high schools are falling down on the job in preparing students for college.

Prof. H. P. Evans, University of Wisconsin faculty member, said here recently that "in high schools there has been a failure to direct analysis of meanings in the worded mathematics problems."

He said that students are not forced to "think their way through" written mathematics problems in high school, and they go on to college without having formed correct study habits.

Chicagoans Prefer Two Olives in Each Martini

CHICAGO (UP)—A survey conducted at a downtown bar indicates that most martini drinkers, when given a choice, will take two olives per drink.

The survey was conducted by the Green Olive Commission which could be biased.

Nevertheless, the month-long study at a do-it-yourself bar where customers are allowed to mix their own drinks offered the two-olive evidence, it was claimed.

Air Force Speeds Drive To Harness Atom Power

CHICAGO (UP)—The armed forces are seeking ways to harness the atom in small ways for peace and defense these days, according to a report from the Illinois Institute of Technology.

The Army and Air Force, for example, are testing storage batteries, less than half a cubic inch in size, which utilizes the rays from atomic bomb by-products to produce electricity.

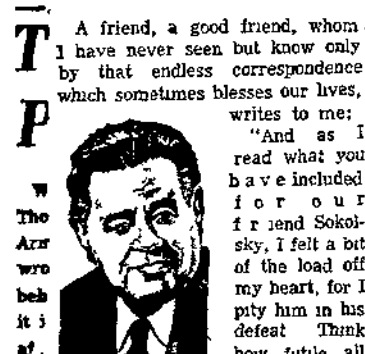

Also under study by the Army is a radiation detector, which takes up about as much space as a package of king-size cigarettes. It can measure the amount of radiation absorbed by a person from a nuclear blast, according to the IIT newsletter.

Sidewalk Acquired

Frail Humanity

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

A friend, a good friend, whom I have never seen but know only by that endless correspondence which sometimes blesses our lives, writes to me:

"And as I read what you have included for our friend Sokolsky, I felt a bit of the load off my heart, for I pity him in his defeat. Think how futile all of his anti-Communist activities must seem! And yet I have not known what of comfort I could say to him."

To anyone who has ever felt the brush of death, there can be no defeat. A moment after that has happened, the person knows that there are mysteries in life, wholly unexplainable and the most unpalatable is that he is alive.

The wife, the children, the doctors are pale-faced and worried, but the patient is exhilarated by the enormous experience of having passed through the Valley of Death and still to be here to look at a water-hungry maple, to listen to the robin and the catbird and the hoot-owl in the woods, to feel the hot tongue of a beloved dog against one's hand, to see the particular faces of those very few human beings who really do matter.

In the noble panorama of creation and so one lifts oneself to hear Beethoven's Sixth and there is no question as to eternity. Life is eternal.

Therefore there can be no defeat as long as one believes that his way of life is what he feels sure is what God would have him do. And of that work there is always so much unfinished business.

Anti-Communism is a poor phrase because the challenge is not answered by opposition; it can only be answered by affirmation.

Who is to say that this or that is wrong unless he is ready to stand for what he believes to be unassailably and uncompromisably right?

THEREFORE when my good friend writes that for some reason or other in July 1955, I must be disappointed because it goes so badly for anti-Communists in the United States, she fails to realize that it might be just the opposite: The mystery of God's work is that throughout the ages men who spat upon Him turn, in time, to recognize that there is a Divine Intelligence, that there is a mystical power, that there is a moral law by which good men abide.

If anything is discouraging, it is not that some New Deal judge who has been fallow for two years, reverts to type. It is rather that American materialism is as ugly as Marxian materialism.

Geneva was a trust with politics but from it may come a revolt of the conscience of humanity. For while nothing came of all the talk and publicity and photography that stirred the city of John Calvin for a second or two, it is known now, beyond doubt, that both sides fear war and want peace and dare not go to war.

IT MAY TAKE time for all that to soak into the minds of politicians but it is upon their consciousness they will be driven by forces beyond themselves and their temporal and temporary greatness to find a path away from the evils of the 20th century of which none can speak better than that it has made the most destructive weapon known to man, that it has taken chivalry out of war and good manners out of the society of man. And there can be no defeat if we have gone that far in our discovery.

FOR WE SHALL find that the fuss about politics and economics does not solve human problems, the greatest of which is to discover how to live at peace with oneself, with one's family, with one's neighbors, with mankind.

This is Khrushchev's task as much as it is yours or mine and he apparently knows that it is his task, but he does not have a better answer than we do, nor does Eisenhower.

Answers to such problems do not come from politicians; they usually come from little men whom some call queer and others call Messiahs.

That is about as far as we have gone in human wisdom.

Galion Receives Awards For 1954 Safety Record

GALION—In ceremonies Wednesday afternoon at the municipal building, the city of Galion received two safety awards, one from the American Automobile Association and the other from the state of Ohio.

Mayor Francis C. Schallp received both awards which were presented in the presence of several members of the Galion Traffic Commission.

Galion was first among cities in Ohio with a population of 5,000 to 10,000, selected for the award made by the Ohio Highway Department of Safety for a good city safety record during 1954. This was made for having no accident fatalities and no serious accident within the city limits.

FROM THE AMERICAN Automobile Association, the citation was for the 1954 pedestrian safety record, the city having an outstanding pedestrian accident record of no pedestrian deaths during the year. The award for this record was the AAA award for "Excellence of Pedestrian Record." It was made on the report in the National Pedestrian Protection Contest of the AAA with Galion being selected for the citation from among 1,555 communities of all sizes. The report showed that Galion had no pedestrian fatalities during 1954.

William Knight of Columbus, represented the division of safety of the state highway department and presented the state highway safety award. He said that the award shows that work has been done at the grass roots of safety which are in each small community.

GRACE THOMAS, secretary of the Galion Automobile Club, made the presentation for the American Automobile Association. The citation was signed by Andrew J. Sordani, president of the AAA, and Fred C. Miller, president of the Galion Automobile Club.

In her remarks, Mrs. Thomas said "The record was achieved in the face of rising traffic exposure for pedestrians as a result of both an increase in vehicle use and the number of motor vehicles. Pedestrian fatalities in 1954 totaled 7,900 in the nation, a reduction of 49 per cent from the high point reached in 1937.

"The real reward to the city, however, was in pedestrian lives saved and the human suffering thus averted . . . almost every pedestrian accident results in serious injury or death," she stated.

Present for the presentation of awards were: Mayor Schallp, Charles R. McGough, Fire Chief John Dutsch, Police Chief Morris Bowers, Police Capt. Norwood Smith, Service Director Floyd Steffe and Grace Thomas, all members of the Galion Traffic Commission.

Voters in Prospect To Decide on Two Bond Issues in Fall

Two Prospect bond issues and one candidate's petition were filed Wednesday with the Marion County Board of Elections for placement on the November ballots.

A $75,000 bond issue for improving and remodeling the present Prospect school buildings and constructing, furnishing and equipping a fireproof addition to the present high school building will be placed before Prospect school district voters.

Also facing Prospect voters will be a $15,000 bond issue for purchasing fire apparatus, including a new truck and other necessary apparatus for improving the present equipment.

A petition was filed by Jack Cooper of Uhler Rd., who is seeking a post as Marion Township trustee.

Car Fails To Negotiate Curve and Strikes Post

One minor no-injury accident was investigated by the sheriff's office Wednesday night. City police and the local state patrol post reported no accidents.

It occurred at 11:30 p.m. on Route 95 just west of Marion as an eastbound car driven by Robert E. Erick, 27, of 643 Ballantine Ave., failed to negotiate a curve and struck a steel post. The left front end of the car was damaged.

IT IS AT SUCH a moment that the small political things over which men quarrel so disastrously take their proper place.

heroin. Even shoe shine boys sell dope.

Most of the vice trade is handled by the Koreans, who come over from North and South Korea at the rate of several hundred a week.

They have set up "Korean villages" around the U.S. camps, especially the ones I've mentioned. And they guard them like the goons guard waterfront pillage back home. They operate like the Mafia with secret crime societies, pass words, and rituals. There are about one million Koreans here and about 80 per cent of them are judged to be Communists.

THE RUSSIAN and Chinese Communists use them as spies, smugglers, and dope peddlers. This, of course, is not intended to say that all the Koreans in Japan are evil. Certainly not! But the Russian and Chinese Communists exploit tens of thousands of them for a brutal part of the cold war on us, via our young GIs.

Just a few days before I flew into Tokyo, the Japanese police caught a seven-man Korean Communist spy ring cold. The entire group was about to skip out for North Korea.

You can get to North Korea practically by row boat so it is not difficult to infiltrate Japan. There is on the west coast a city called Niigata. This is a very strategic spot. It is the only major Japanese city directly across from North Korea.

Dick Deverall, the husky, terrifically informed AFL representative here, flew all the way around the world last spring to tell a U.S. senate sub-committee on Internal Security that Niigata "is an area where many people, including myself, believe that North Korean opium and narcotics shipments are coming through Japan."

NOBODY PAID ANY attention. The testimony was buried just as were the few GI kids who took overloads of this opium.

But it isn't only the GIs who suffer. America back home is suffering, too.

On June 15, Sen. Price Daniel of Texas told the Senate that a 300 million dollar narcotics traffic "is a criminal cancer" spreading crime and suffering throughout the nation. Well, some of that 300 million dollar cancer comes all the way from China, through some of these ports, despite the terrific job of the small (250-man) staff of the Japanese anti-narcotics bureau here.

And I can give you the route. The opium starts in Communist China.

It flows into a northern Thailand city, Chiangrai. From there to Macao and Hong Kong, through Japan and on to our West Coast.

ONLY LAST MARCH, a sailor, Oscar K. on a Swedish boat picked up a big bundle of narcotics in Hong Kong for delivery in San Francisco.

The Japanese narcotics agents picked him up when the vessel put into Kobe. But that was just one package. The stuff flows into Frisco regularly, they tell me.

Then the profit frequently goes into subverting the labor movements of this and other Asiatic nations. Here, the 3 1/2 million member Sohyo, the labor federation, is dominated by the commies, who always seem to have lots of loose yen. Where could it all come from? Moscow and Peking could stop all this with a snap of their blood-stained fingers. Why don't they?

American Ailment

NEW YORK—America, which leads the world in telephones and automobiles, also has more hay fever victims than any other country. Why? Prosperity, good old prosperity.

This is the theory of Dr. Rudolph Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzamine, and antihistamine used in the treatment of hay fever.

In Europe, where every available piece of land is tilled or utilized in some way, there is no room for ragweed, which is blamed for 80 per cent of all hay fever.

"Only in the United States can we afford the luxury of unused open fields and lots, where ragweed grows," said Dr. Mayer.

While hay fever may be a by-product of national prosperity, it gives its victims—whose annual seasonal torture begins this month—anything but a sense of individual well-being.

AND THE AILMENT is on the increase.

The U.S. Public Health Service says there are nearly four million asthmatic and hay fever sufferers in this country. It is estimated the two diseases cost some 24,750,000 lost workdays each year.

One of the sorest points with those afflicted with hay fever is that they meet with little sympathy from their nonallergic friends.

Their plight is regarded as oddly humorous. The surest way to make an enemy of a man with hay fever is to tell him, "It's all in your mind."

It isn't ragweed pollen in itself that causes hay fever, but certain chemicals in it resembling the chemicals in viruses. They in turn produce histamine, a decomposition product which causes the wheezing, sneezing, eye-watering nose-running symptoms of hay fever.

DR. MAYER sees no immediate hope of cutting down the incidence of hay fever. He expects the number of cases to grow in the next few years.

RULES Death Accidental

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Coroner James E. Walter ruled 8-year-old Ronald Nickles accidentally hanged himself to death at his home in nearby Castalia yesterday while trying to make a swing. The boy had fastened one end of a rope to a tree branch and apparently was there nearly four million slipped, the other end wrapping around his neck.

By Hal Boyle

Many Europeans who never had hay fever before develop it on coming to this country. Dr. Mayer, who came here in 1942, is an exception.

"So far, I haven't had any," he said. After spending 25 years studying allergies, the last thing he wants is hay fever.

Runoff Slated For Governor In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (U-Atty. Paul Johnson and J. P. Coleman, state's attorney general, face each other for the governorship of Mississippi in the Aug. 23 Democratic primary. Johnson, making his third bid for the post once held by his father, led a field of five candidates in Tuesday's first Democratic election primary. Under Mississippi election laws, if no candidate receives a majority the two leaders go into a runoff primary. Nomination in the Mississippi Democratic primaries virtually means election.

Unofficial incomplete returns gave Johnson 110,748 votes in 1,763 of the state's 1,852 precincts; Coleman, 102,567.

Ross Barnett, Jackson attorney, and former Gov. Fielding Wright, founder of the 1948 States Rights party, were running close for third place on the basis of the incomplete returns. Wright had 91,345; Barnett, 90,437.

The only woman candidate, Mrs. Mary Cain, was running last with 20,277 votes, and she conceded her defeat. She is editor of the Sunbelt (Miss.) Sun.

All candidates promised they would keep Negroes out of white schools.

The present governor, Hugh White, is ineligible to succeed himself.

Three-Month Tour Set By Rep. Frances Bolton

WASHINGTON (U) — A three-month tour of Africa and the near East begins Aug. 22 for Rep. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) who received President Eisenhower's best wishes for the trip yesterday.

Tennessee To Appeal Fine Of $16 for Speed Trap Warning

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U)—Does a citizen break the law when he warns motorists of a radar speed trap?

That was the question put to City Judge B. R. Boushe. The judge, after finding the defendant guilty, said:

"Someone higher than a poor little city judge should pass on this case." The defendant's lawyers agreed and said they would appeal.

Last week J. W. Evans, 30, was stopped by radar officers for speeding and fined $11.

A few days later a radar crew became suspicious when all cars passing through its "trap" remained well inside the speed limit.

Up the road a bit they found the answer—Evans holding a piece of cardboard with the word "radar" written on it.

Evans was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. The charge was amended to interfering with an officer acting in the line of duty.

Judge Boushe fined Evans $16.

Milk Supply Short For Northern Ohio

CLEVELAND (U) — The hot weather has dried up the milk surplus in the Cleveland market area and some dairies are importing milk here from other states.

Cows, who made their own adjustments to temperature extremes, generally produce less milk in hot weather. Thus, the decline amounts to as much as 30 per cent in some parts of the northern Ohio milkshed.

Derailment Delays N&W Streamliner

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (U) — Two freight trains were derailed at Hewlet, W. Va., yesterday, Scioto division headquarters of the Norfolk and Western Railroad here reported.

The crack Powhatan Arrow passenger train, en route from Cincinnati to Norfolk, Va., was delayed 20 minutes when six derailed freight cars and an engine blocked three tracks. A railroad spokesman said no one was hurt.

A car from an eastbound freight buckled and fell over a westbound track, he said, and a westbound freight smacked into the derailed car. Hewlet, known also as Merleth, is in Wayne County, near the Kentucky border, about 20 miles southwest of Huntington, W. Va.

Every cadet of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., must make four voyages in the bark Eagle, a square-rigged school for seamanship.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Elsie M. Boyd

Mrs. Elsie M. Boyd of Canby Ct. was stricken suddenly at home about 6:15 p.m. Wednesday and was pronounced dead on arrival at General Hospital. She had been under the care of a physician for some time.

After returning home from work at a restaurant she had been putting clothes on the clothesline in the yard and neighbors to whom she had talked earlier found her slumped over the clothes basket. An autopsy was planned to determine cause of death.

Surviving are two daughters, Jessie and Florence Walker, and a son in service, Pvt. Gerald J. Rogan at Ft. Campbell, Ky. The body was taken to the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary.

Calls Army 'Censor'

Thomas Charges Security Program Harms Youth

WASHINGTON (U)—Norman Thomas charged today that the Army's security program has wrongfully fastened disloyalty labels on many young men and made it impossible for them to get jobs after being discharged.

The Socialist party chief, often a presidential candidate, accused the Army of "assuming the role of censor over all the nation's young men from approximately the age of 15 to 30."

He said a report on more than 100 cases affected by the security program would be handed to Asst. Army Secretary Hugh H. Milton II late this morning.

Compiled Report

The report was prepared by Rowland Watts, Baltimore and New York attorney and national secretary of the Workers Defense League. Thomas is a director of the league, which describes itself as an anti-Communist organization interested in the defense of civil liberties.

The two men were joined in the presentation by Kenneth M. Birkhead, national executive director of the American Veterans Committee.

Watts said the report was based on interviews with lawyers and their clients from coast to coast.

An Army allegation in one case, described as "still pending," was that the draftee had a father "who is reported to have said that if communism offered anything good he would accept it."

He said in many of the cases the soldier gets quasi-clearance through a "general discharge under honorable conditions."

Security Blackball

But, he points out, such a discharge has imprinted upon it "SR 800-220-1 applies. This is the regulation pertaining to security, and 'any personnel man knows it,' 'any personnel man knows it,' said Watts. Consequently a youth as an anti-Communist organization

HELD IN SLAYING OF INFANT SON. Mrs. Marian Elizabeth Kearney (right), 23, sobs in Municipal Court at Long Beach, Calif., after she was ordered held in death of her three-month-old son. Comforting her are her husband, Edward, left; her father, J. J. Moffatt, of Rockford, Ill., and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Kearney. She is accused of beating the infant to death with his nursing bottle last July 20 after the baby refused to eat.

Girl Swimmer Sees Goal, Can't Quite Reach It

TORONTO (U)—Shirley Campbell, a 19-year-old typist, failed today in her try to become the second person to swim the forbidding 32-mile expanse of Lake Ontario between Youngstown, N. Y., and Toronto.

Shirley's bid to place her name alongside Toronto's Marilyn Bell, who swam the distance last year, ended when she was pulled from the water at 1:15 a.m., EST, with less than two miles to go.

Automobile lights on the Toronto waterfront twinkled at her as 50,000 waited to give her a boisterous welcome. Powerful searchlights lit the way to the finish line, but she was forced to give up after 24 hours, 27 minutes in the water.

She was exhausted and almost unconscious when pulled out.

Spanish Railmen Will Return Here

Five representatives of the Spanish State Railway, who are in this country on a government-sponsored mission, will return to Marion this month for a second inspection of Erie Railroad operation.

The group will spend two weeks at the Erie's diesel shop here beginning Aug. 14. They will then visit the Hornell, N. Y., shop from Aug. 28 to Sept. 9. The group, which visited Marion earlier, is now taking a two weeks course at a diesel locomotive plant in Schenectady, N. Y.

Included in the Spanish group are Angel Gomez and Manuel

Blasco, motive power engineers; Marcelo Sanjose, assistant superintendent of the diesel motive power roundhouse; Manuel Fernandez, master electrician, and Felipe Alvarez, master mechanic. The visit to the Erie is sponsored by the Foreign Operations Administration of the U. S. government.

Convicts May Smoke

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Ohio Penitentiary inmates now are allowed to smoke in many prison shops. Warden Ralph W. Alvis said he took the action to cut down griping. Associated Warden E. L. Maxwell also had large exhaust fans installed in the dormitory over the plumbing shop after he discovered some prisoners couldn't sleep because of the heat.

Fascinating Experience

One of the cases:

The youth acknowledged on his loyalty certificate that in a period about five years before he was inducted he attended meetings of the American Youth for Democracy and the Jewish Young Fraternists.

The Jewish organization as he named it was not listed on the loyalty form as subversive. And he attended the AYD meeting before the attorney general's list of subversive organizations was in existence.

The soldier had a letter of recommendation from his company commander praising his work and devotion to duty over a six-month period.

Took Lie Detector Test

He even took a lie detector test at his own request and the results, according to Watts' report, were favorable.

The findings of the examining field board were that the subject had been a member of the Jewish People's Fraternal Order but was not a member of the American Youth for Democracy since he was only 15 at the time he attended AYD meetings.

Yet, the soldier's retention in service was on a "specially controlled" basis which restricted him from sensitive jobs and in his opinion was short of "complete exoneration."

And when he was discharged last month, he was given the "general discharge under honorable conditions," presumably stamped with the security regulation under which it was issued.

Watts argued in his report that the cases he cited showed the Army is "assuming the role of censor over all the nation's young men from approximately the age of 15 to 30 by making pre-induction activities a major consideration in determining the character of the discharge which each shall have."

He noted that the control extends into the six-year reserve period following active service.

"A man has the right to a discharge based upon the kind of service he gave the Army. If the service was honorable, so should be the discharge," Watts said.

Ike's Plans To Report On Congress Dropped

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower has given up any plans to make a radio-television talk to the nation appraising the work of Congress in the session just ended.

The White House had indicated earlier in the week such a speech was contemplated, but Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Wednesday there would be none.

Hagerty said Eisenhower's news conference today, being filmed and recorded for TV and radio, would serve about the same purpose.

The news conference was arranged for mid-afternoon (2:30 p.m. EDT).

Excess speed was blamed for 12,380 traffic deaths and injuries to 659,000 persons in the United States during 1954.

Building Colony of Ants Good Children's Project

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Do you have children around the house needing something new to interest them?

During these long summer days with no school, youngsters need some continuing project that not only keeps them busy but gives them something to think about.

Ever think of studying ants? Lend a hand and some interest yourself and you'll be amazed at how fascinating ants can be.

ANTS ARE everywhere. Maybe you've thought that they were a bit too plentiful! But put them to good use. You'll find the little red ones on city pavements and in the backyard. (I hope not in the bread box). The big black ones like the woods, and gardens and make their nests in trees and fence posts.

Just watching them is fun. Scatter a few crumbs and watch an ant pull and tug at a delectable morsel many times bigger than his own body. You will find that a crumb will attract several ants and if you watch you soon realize that some of the newcomers are helping the first ant pull the food toward home and the others are fighting to pull it a different way. There are friends and enemies among them!

As your children become interested in the complicated way of life of ants they will want to learn more about them. You can make an ant nest out of glass so you can watch what happens in the below-ground life of ants.

THE EQUIPMENT is quite simple. You need two pieces of window glass about a foot square. Glue one-quarter inch strips of wood around the edges of one piece of glass. Leave two small holes so that you can put in food and water. Just below the water hole put a piece of sponge which can be kept wet by putting water through the hole with a medicine dropper.

Now find an ant nest. Dig up ants and dirt and spread over the glass. Quickly glue down the top piece of glass and seal the edges with adhesive tape, all except the two holes for food and water. These holes can be plugged up either with cotton or with corks so the ants cannot escape.

Ant nests in nature are dark, so keep a piece of cardboard over the nest when you are not watching the ants and don't expose the ant nest to the sun.

YOU WILL BE amazed at what the ants do. They build tunnels through the dirt, have nurseries for their babies, storage space for food, special rooms for sleeping.

Be sure to keep the sponge moistened with water. For food,

GIRL HURT IN BIKE MISHAP

A foot accidentally placed between the spokes of a bicycle wheel sent a five-year-old girl to Marion General Hospital Wednesday afternoon with a possible broken leg, Barbara Lee Albert of 146 Pennsylvania Ave. was taken to the hospital at 3:55 p.m. following the accident a few minutes earlier.

Watching the ants will likely inspire the youngsters to get books about ants at the library. Think what a wonderful subject for compositions the ant colony will be next year at school.

Building such an ant colony is far more than just occupation for the children. It provides the kind of family interest and learning experience that are so important for building a camaraderie between child and parent. This in turn does much to develop security and growth.

From The Famous Mendota Valley of California CANTALOUPE

The Mendota Valley area is widely known for the marvelous flavor and color of the cantaloupes grown there. These melons are all picked while ripe on the vine, then expertly graded for size before they are brushed and waxed and hand selected for color and sweetness. They are then carefully packed and loaded into refrigerated cars and rushed to Albers Super Markets so as to reach you at their peak of flavor and color. Once you try these delicious melons, you will be convinced of their superior quality.

A-Bomb Survivors Still Jittery 10 Years Later

Fear of Radiation Effect Plagues Japs

The most lasting and sensitive impression the survivors of the atomic attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki have today is an abiding fear that their bodies still are affected; that they may come down with "atomic disease" even now, 10 years after the blasts. Here's a report on the situation, including what U. S. and Japanese doctors are doing about it.

By GENE KRAMER
HIROSHIMA, Japan (U) — Thousands who survived the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki 10 years ago live in fear today that their health is permanently damaged.

It is a fear subtly exploited by anti-American elements, but it exists.

Some Japanese say "years after exposure to the bomb you suddenly become ill and die of atomic or radiation sickness. It is happening every week."

Others, including some doctors, claim exposure to radiation has reduced their energy and probably will shorten their lives.

When a survivor of the Hiroshima or Nagasaki atomic blasts dies — even if the cause is old age — some people and occasionally newspapers chalk it up to the bomb.

THE ATOMIC BOMB casualty commission (ABCC), a joint U. S.-Japanese research project, says much of this is unfounded. The ABCC, conducting an exhaustive statistical study of long-term health effects in the atom-bombed cities has some of the answers already.

The study will continue for years, perhaps generations, officials say, but these are the basic findings so far:

1. Leukemia, the fatal blood disease, right now is more prevalent than normal among survivors of the A-bomb.

2. So are eye cataracts, or opacity of the lens, although no blindness has been produced. Forty per cent of those so heavily exposed to radiation during atomic attack that their hair temporarily fell out have suffered this.

3. No genetic effects have been observed in the first generation of children born to mothers exposed to radiation.

Dr. R. H. Holmes, Aiken, S. C., director of the ABCC said that in examining 75,000 adults and 70,000 children of Hiroshima and thousands more in Nagasaki, "the critical area for radiation was 2,000 meters 1 1/4 miles from the bomb's center. For any practical purpose, anyone further was not affected." Both bombs happened to be about the same size.

"Leukemia definitely increased among those heavily exposed to radiation. Fortunately the total has been relatively small," said Holmes.

There have been 70 cases of leukemia in Hiroshima and 50 in Nagasaki, and they are still coming with abnormal frequency.

LEUKEMIA HAS stricken 1 in 400 persons heavily exposed to radiation, compared to 1 in 5,000 outside the critical area. This is 12 to 15 times as much leukemia among A-bomb survivors. One Japanese doctor figured two-thirds of Nagasaki leukemia cases are attributed to the bombing.

Holmes said "It is unlikely genetic effects will be observed in subsequent generations. However, everyone familiar with the subject knows radiation is capable of producing mutations. If such mutations occur, it is probable they would be so diluted in the future population so as to escape observation."

The widespread talk of "atomic sickness" is a perplexing problem, with ABCC doctors reluctant to discredit it entirely.

PRINCIPAL TATSUO OI of Shiroyama Grade School, Nagasaki, said a noticeable thing about 92 children put in special classes because they were exposed to the bomb is that "they are very slow recovering their stamina."

Kyoshi Kikkawa, badly-burned atom bomb souvenir seller in Hiroshima, insists bitterly to all tourists, "atomic victims seem healthy but they are too feeble to do any hard work."

"Whatever 'atomic sickness' is, it is an ill-defined, vague condition," said Holmes.

"There's no way to prove fatigue comes from radiation. Who knows, in 10 years we might accept such a theory, but we must insist on being scientific and accepting only the facts as we learn them," said Dr. Wayne Truax, ABCC director in Nagasaki.

Reunions

WELLS
Mr. and Mrs. Rube Gosnell of Green Camp were host and hostess for the Wells reunion Sunday. About 80 people attended the basket dinner. Guests were from Marysville, Columbus, Marion, Richmond, Washington, D. C., Crestline, Dayton and Kenton.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Ralph Syer, president; Delmore Cleveland, vice president and Mrs. Robert Wolfinger, secretary and treasurer. The 1956 reunion will be held on the last Sunday in July at the Prospect Community Park.

Will Remodel Store

CAREY — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowman, owners of Bowman Electric, have announced plans for the enlargement and remodeling of their store. The partition between the display room and the repair shop will be removed, lengthening the store by 20 feet. A new repair shop will be provided at the extreme rear and the office and wrapping counter will be moved to the front.

Body of Kingpin In Numbers Racket Will Be Exhumed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — They'll dig up the body of Melvin Clark today to extract the bullets that killed him, Coroner Dr. Robert A. Evans said.

The bullets will be studied in ballistics tests to determine whether Clark, a kingpin in the Cincinnati area numbers racket, was slain in a gunfight or ambushed on July 18.

Frank (Screw) Andrews, behind whose cafe in Newport, Ky., the 40-year-old Clark was shot to death, has been charged by police with the shooting. Andrews claims he shot Clark in self defense. But an unidentified woman told police she was peering through a fence and saw two men pump eight bullets into Clark. She later repudiated her story.

Commonwealth Attorney William J. Wise of Newport said the ballistics investigation will determine if the woman's first statement was correct.

Clark's body, police said, only showed four wounds. He was buried July 23 in Columbus where he had spent his youth.

Heads Meat Dealers

CLEVELAND (U) — Albert Glynn of Detro. it yesterday was reelected president of the National Assn. of Retail Meat & Food Dealers. Cleveland Louis Gallowitz was reelected as a board member and vice president as the association ended a convention here.

Two Top Psychiatrists Recruited From Indiana

Ohio Builds Mental Health Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio has started spending money to attract brains to its state mental health program.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, today announced appointment of two psychiatrists who were recruited from the LaRue D. Carter Memorial Hospital in Indianapolis.

They were Dr. Edward N. Hinko, 45, and Dr. William M. Lordi, 32, who will begin working in Ohio around Sept. 1. They will start at salaries set by the state civil service commission—$10,800 a year for Dr. Lordi and $11,760 for Dr. Hinko.

But one month later they will be eligible for higher salaries. The last legislature gave the department the right to pay salaries higher than those set by the commission for professional men. Beginning Oct. 1, the department believes higher salaries will attract more top-flight specialists.

THE DEPARTMENT isn't saying how much more Drs. Hinko and Lordi will get beginning Oct. 1 because new salary scales for continue as superintendent. Dr. Hinko will head the training program at Cleveland Receiving Hospital, working in cooperation with the psychiatric department of Western Reserve University and the graduate training program of Cleveland City Hospital. Dr. Lordi will assist in training at his new post in Columbus.

TRAINING CENTERS will be set up later at the Columbus Receiving Hospital and Rollman Receiving Hospital in Cincinnati.

Dr. Porterfield said other professional mental health personnel will be recruited, to help develop "one of the most progressive mental health programs in the country."

Dr. Hinko was assistant director at Carter Hospital, which is similar to Ohio's receiving hospitals. He has been a psychiatrist 19 years.

Dr. Lordi was director of the residential treatment center for children at Carter Hospital. He directed the county child guidance center at Frankfort, Ky., before going to Indianapolis.

Lausche's Term on Civil Defense Council Expires

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio has been replaced on the civil defense advisory council. President Eisenhower yesterday appointed Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas to succeed Lausche, saying the Ohio governor's term had expired. Two other council members also were replaced for the same reason.

New Contract Will End Strike At Deere & Co.

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—Agreement has been reached by 12,500 CIO United Auto Workers at eight Deere & Co. implement plants in Illinois and Iowa.

Pat Greenhouse, regional UAW director, announced the agreement Wednesday night and said details of the new contract probably will be made available today.

He said UAW members will remain on strike until they ratify the agreement. The strike began 12:01 a.m. Monday after earlier negotiations had failed to break a deadlock.

The union sought a wage increase plus a layoff pay plan and other benefits which the company said would cost more than one dollar per hour for each worker. A UAW spokesman said the average pay at Deere plants is $2.28 an hour.

Three Deere plants are located at East Moline and one each at Moline, Des Moines, Dubuque, Waterloo and Ottumwa, Iowa.

UPPER SANDUSKY — N. V. Armstrong, clerk of the board of elections, reports that there are four townships in which no candidates for township trustee have filed and seven townships in which no petitions were filed for clerk of the township.

There were seven local school districts out of a total of 10 in which no persons had filed for the board of education and out of the eight villages of the county, no candidates have filed for five village offices.

All petitions for candidates must be on file with the board of elections by 4 p.m. on Aug. 10.

CLOSED WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (U)—The stock market was pressed down sharply today following new moves to tighten credit as an anti-inflation measure. Prices were pushed down one to around five points with the bulk of the worst part of the fall in the range of one to around three points. Trading was around Wednesday's 2,190,000 shares.

After the close Wednesday, the Federal Reserve Board announced a hike in the discount rate, the charge the reserve banks make for loans to its member banks. At the same time, New York commercial banks increased their charges on loans to business.

At the start today, a flurry of trading took prices down sharply, but the selling never got out of hand.

Standard Oil (NJ) came under sharp selling pressure after directors declared a dividend of $1.25, the same as paid in two previous quarters. No mention was made by the company of a stock split, a development that Wall Street observers had hoped would take place at this meeting of directors. Within a matter of minutes after announcement of the dividend action, Jersey lost around six points.

U. S. government bonds were mixed.

Bikini-Clad Pasteboard Doll Is Too Realistic for Angry Wife

BESSEMER Ala. (AP)—A vivacious brunette clad in a Bikini is being held incommunicado in the Bessemer jail. She's a doll—paper doll named Myrtle.

Myrtle's arrest resulted from one of those affairs involving a fun loving husband, a jealous wife and a red-faced detective.

But Police Chief C. T. Mullen is a bit upset about the whole thing, although he agrees that the "Alienation of affections and indecent exposure" charge is quite a doll—paper doll that she is. Myrtle is made of pasteboard.

An indignant wife stormed into Mullen's office displaying a photo of her husband with Myrtle in the Bikini. I want this woman arrested," she said.

For what? asked the chief.

"Alienation of affections and indecent exposure."

It turned out that the fun loving husband had shown a picture of himself with Myrtle to neighbors. The story got back to the wife. The husband delayed telling her that Myrtle was a pasteboard doll used by a beer distributor and that an employee of the distributor took pictures of his customers with Myrtle, who made them look quite dashing.

Detective Lawton Grimes called on the beer distributor and announced he had come to take Myrtle into custody. He tucked Myrtle under his arm and went back to the station.

"It's fantastic," Mullen said. The wife, on discovering that Myrtle is merely a paper doll, still wants somebody arrested. Mullen told her that he'd arrest the proper persons if she could swear out a proper warrant.

Six WACs Discharged Following Investigation

FT JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—An investigation of moral conduct among part of Ft. Jackson's WAC detachment has resulted in the discharge of six members.

Authorities said Wednesday the action was "for the good of the service. They declined comment on the investigation itself. The discharges, according to the public information office, were "of the undesirable type."

Authorities also declined comment on a Chicago Tribune story that one of the WACs attempted suicide because of "the solicitations of a group of WACs who had tried repeatedly to induce her to engage in immoral acts."

The WAC detachment here is made up of about 100 members.

Ohio To Get $2,540,651 Aid for School Lunches

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio will use $2,540,651 in federal funds in the coming school year to help support the school lunch program.

The agriculture department says under law each federal dollar must be matched by three dollars from agencies inside the state. The government money is apportioned on the basis of the number of school age children, and the state's per capita income average.

Sentenced for Forgery

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Robert Miller, 33, of Willoughby was sentenced yesterday to 120 years in prison for forging his wife's name to an $826 note accepted in 1933 by the City Loan & Savings Co. of Willoughby. Miller pleaded guilty before Judge Winfield Scott. His former wife, since remarried, had told police she did not sign the note.

Ohio Vaccine Supply for Eligibles Adequate

School Children Will Get Second 'Shots' in October

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When Ohio resumes its free polio vaccine program in the fall, there will be enough Salk vaccine to inoculate the eligible children, the state health department says.

Dr. Malcolm Robbins, acting chief of the Division of Communicable Diseases, says he has been assured the shots will be available when Ohio wants them.

About 380,000 first and second graders received first shots before schools let out this year. Of these, 39,500 received second shots—completing their free vaccinations.

The federal government held up second shots while it tested both the vaccine and methods of making it. Meanwhile, local school and health authorities in Ohio decided to wait until after schools reopen to give second shots to the other children.

No Hurry Indicated

That probably won't be until late in October, Dr. Robbins said, after the peak of the polio season in Ohio has passed. And there will be no special hurry to resume second shots, he said, because they will be aimed at preparing the children for next summer.

The children when they go back to school will be in the second and third grades. They are the only ones entitled to free shots.

Other school children and adults who want inoculations can get them from their private physicians. As far as Dr. Robbins knows, Ohio physicians have no supplies of vaccine now.

But they have lists of persons who want the vaccine but couldn't get any after the federal government shut off the supply.

When effectiveness of the vaccine was announced, a tremendous demand was built up. The effect the release of faulty vaccine will have on the demand is not known now. But Dr. Robbins, a firm believer in the vaccine, says this:

"I think the public acceptance in Ohio generally has been good. I would like to see everyone get their shots."

Equitable Distribution

When the vaccine is released to Ohio physicians, the health department will see that it is distributed equitably in all areas so every city or rural area will get a fair amount.

The vaccine is just as effective on grownups as it is on children, says Dr. Robbins. If new techniques of giving the vaccine prove efficient, he says grownups and children can be inoculated at a faster rate.

Ohio's polio season began later

Sacramento Is Waging Pony Express Struggle

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—A group seeking to turn the 100-year-old Pony Express Building into a permanent Old West museum has been told it may have the wrong building.

Sacramento was the western terminal of a Pony Express route across the high Sierra Nevada in the early 1860's.

Dr. Joseph McGowan, history professor at Sacramento State College, told the museum group that a search of old newspapers and directories indicate the old Pony Express terminal was nearly a block away from the building regarded as the authentic one.

The Pony Express building, now locked up on Sacramento's waterfront Skid Row, was marked with a plaque 30 years ago.

Mrs. O. U. Taylor, secretary of the Sacramento Historic Landmarks Commission, told McGowan the same question arose 30 years ago but a "preponderance of evidence" pointed to the building presently marked.

Refugees Homeless

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UP)—Nine thousand refugees from Communist North Viet Nam have been made homeless in fires set by unknown persons, the official government news agency reported Wednesday. The report said the files were set last weekend in the village of Phuoc Ly, which houses 15,000 refugees.

Man Struck by Lightning Bolt Says He Felt Little

NORTON, Kan. (UP)—When lightning strikes, "you don't feel a thing," says a man who should know.

Emanuel Schwab, farmer who was hit by lightning while on his tractor, said the pain only comes later "when your muscles begin to loosen up."

just raised the lister when "it happened."

"I suddenly was paralyzed," he recalled on a hospital bed. "I couldn't move my arms, legs or head. I knew I must stop the tractor and I finally could do that."

"Gradually I was able to drive on home, but I had to be lifted from the tractor seat."

He was treated for shock and for burns on his neck and left leg.

Meat's at Its Best on an Outdoor Grill

Ham Steaks Coated With Pineapple Sauce Will Cook to Perfection

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Everybody's doing it: cooking meat outdoors. But some grill addicts are more successful than others. Want to know the secrets of some of the best barbecue chefs?

Let's start with steak. You can, of course, choose such beautiful broiling steaks as beef tenderloin, sirloin, club, T-bone or Porterhouse. (Porterhouse is a T-bone steak with a large portion of tenderloin. You'll find some meat markets use the same T-bone and Porterhouse for the same cut.) Or if the beef is top quality and aged, chuck, rib, rump and top round steak may be barbecued over an outdoor fire whose long slow cooking will help to make them tender. Marinating the steaks will also help to bring them to succulence. For the marinating liquid you may use a thin barbecue sauce; a mixture of soy sauce, salad oil, crushed fresh ginger and garlic; or a mixture of salad oil, vinegar and garlic.

Some expert outdoor chefs suggest putting the steak on a grill, barbecue rack or wire meshing one to two feet above glowing coals. Others like to use an old-fashioned folding wire toaster with long handles so the meat may be turned easily.

INDIVIDUAL STEAK SANDWICHES

Use individual boneless steaks (each at least 1/2 pound). Let the steaks stand at room temperature for at least half an hour. Brown and cook the steaks to desired doneness, and remove from the fire. Have a loaf of French bread split and buttered. Place the steaks on one half of the buttered bread; top the steak with dollops of herb-seasoned butter. Now top the meat with onion rings, tomato slices, salt and lots of freshly-ground pepper. Sandwich the bread and fillings together; slice diagonally to make individual servings.

HAM STEAKS

Choose thick center slices from fully-cooked ham and have them cut 1 1/2 or 2 inches thick; you can get these at your meat market. The thicker the better! This fully-cooked style of ham will grill to perfection over the coals. A 1-inch slice will need about 40 minutes while the thicker slices will take about an hour; turn the slices every 15 minutes and brush with some of the following pineapple sauce. Make the sauce in your kitchen, then reheat it over the outdoor grill.

PINEAPPLE SAUCE FOR CHARCOAL-BROILED HAM

Ingredients: 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups pineapple juice, 1 cup drained pineapple chunks.

Method: Mix cornstarch and brown sugar together thoroughly in saucepan. Stir in pineapple juice a little at a time; make sure mixture is smooth before adding next amount of juice. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and clear. Add pineapple chunks. Reheat over outdoor fire and serve over grilled ham slices. Use some of the sauce to brush on the ham slices as they are being grilled.

California Mother Accused of Killing 3-Month-Old Baby

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A young mother sobbed uncontrollably as a physician described the death of her 3-month-old child — whom she is accused of killing.

"I found the baby in his crib," the physician, Dr. Paul W. Smith, testified Tuesday at a preliminary hearing for Mrs. Marion Kearney, 23. "There was no heartbeat, no respiration."

Mrs. Kearney plunged her face into her handkerchief and burst into tears.

She sobbed throughout the hearing, at which she was ordered to appear for Superior Court arraignment Aug. 15 on a murder charge. Police quoted Mrs. Kearney as saying she hit her son, John, with a baby bottle after he refused to eat.

Her attorney asked Dr. Frederic D. Newbarr, coroner's chief autopsy surgeon, if the skull fractures which caused the child's death July 20 could have been suffered in a fall.

"I do not think so," Dr. Newbarr said.

President Took 'Easy Way Out' In Talbott Case, Democrat Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said President Eisenhower chose "the easy way out" in accepting the resignation of Harold E. Talbott as secretary of the Air Force.

He said the President had sidestepped the issue of ethics.

The White House announced Talbott's resignation Monday, accepting it. Eisenhower said Talbott had made the "right" decision. Talbott will step out Aug. 13.

Butler issued a statement Tuesday calling the Talbott resignation "a case of unpunished unethical conduct."

Butler also criticized Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell's part in the matter. He said Brownell had known for some months that the propriety of Talbott's conduct had been questioned. "Did this administration's chief law enforcement officer take vigorous and prompt steps to end this deviation from an uncompromising code of ethics in government?" Butler asked.

"He did nothing of the sort," Butler said the new rule of the administration seemed to be "don't get caught" or "if you do get caught, we'll let you resign."

Talbott has acknowledged some mistakes of judgment but denied using his office to promote business for a private management engineering firm in which he held a special partnership.

Possible political effects of the matter are still being debated.

Arizona has 2,152 miles of railroad.

ROKs Ask Red Chinese To Free 20,000 Koreans

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea Wednesday demanded that Red China immediately free 20,000 Korean prisoners of war and civilians.

Acting Foreign Minister Cho Chung Whan made the demand in a statement. No mention was made of North Korea.

"We rejoice with the rest of the free world at the freeing of 11 American fliers, but we must remind our friends and allies that Red China still holds—illegally and inhumanly—2,263 Korean prisoners of war and 17,504 civilians who were forcibly removed from this country," the statement said.

Potato Salad Makes Refreshing Summer Meal

Take the simmer out of summer by serving easily made, cool dishes.
Potato salad makes a perfect meal of this type. Only the potatoes and eggs require cooking and they can be prepared hours in advance, during the cool of the day, with almost no work necessary at meal time.
Use:
6 cups cubed cooked potatoes.
1 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
1/4 cup minced onion
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 lb. frankfurters, sliced
1 cup sliced stuffed olives
4 hard cooked eggs
Combine potatoes, celery, green pepper, pimiento and onion. Mix mayonnaise with mustard and add to potato mixture. Mix thoroughly. Cover and chill several hours. Add olives, part of the frankfurters and three of the eggs which have been diced. Mix carefully. Use remaining egg and frankfurters as garnish.
To give a party touch to this summertime dish, serve buffet style with assorted relishes.

Suits for $96,000 Filed in Crawford

BUCYRUS — Three suits, seeking judgments totaling $96,150, have been filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here as a result of a two-car collision near Bucyrus last year in which two persons were killed and two others injured.
Defendant in all three actions is Thomas R. Hayes, administrator of the estate of Walter R. Hayes of near Marion. Hayes was killed when his car collided with an auto driven by Clarence G. Ridenour, 37, of Custer, O. The accident occurred July 5, 1954, three miles north of Bucyrus on State Route 4.
Ridenour, in one action, asks $51,150 for personal injuries, loss earnings, hospital and medical expenses and for injuries and expenses resulting from injury to his son, Keith.
For the "wrongful death" of his wife, Mildred, 36, who was killed, the plaintiff asks $20,000. In his third action, brought in behalf of his son, Ridenour asks $25,000.

Action Taken on Polio, Defense

Several Key Bills Passed In Last Rush To Adjourn

WASHINGTON — Legislation by which Congress completed action Tuesday included:
Polio — Congress authorized federal spending of 30 million dollars to help the states provide free Salk polio vaccine for needy children. The program would run until next Feb. 15 and would allow free shots for some 20 million youngsters under 20 and expectant mothers.
The bill gives the U.S. surgeon general authority to decide which age groups would have priority in receiving the vaccine.
Compromise Reached
Defense Production — A compromise bill to extend the Defense Production Act for one year was worked out in less than an hour by Senate-House conferees. The measure then quickly cleared both branches by voice votes.
The bill would require business executives filling temporary, payless federal jobs to make periodic public reports on their private financial interests.
Transit — A compromise bill aimed at ending Washington's 34-day bus and streetcar strike cleared both branches. It would enable District of Columbia commissioners to arrange for transit service during the next 12 months by the struck Capital Transit Co. or some other firm. The District would make up any financial losses during this period.
At the end of the 12 months, the District government could revoke the franchise of Capital Transit, which is controlled by financier Louis E. Wolfson. Meanwhile, the District could prescribe strike settlement terms.
Appropriation Passed
Congress Money — Congress quickly passed a compromise legislative appropriation bill that had been bogged down for several days by a squabble over pay raises for congressional employees.
In addition to pay increases, the bill provides for a 50 per cent boost in the stationery and postage allowances for senators and for a $5,000 increase in the clerical allowance for each House member.
Senate provisions permit one top salary of $14,300 for each committee staff, a second of $14,300 and four of $13,617. The House salary schedule contains a $14,800 ceiling for an unlimited number of committee staff members. Other pay boosts were voted for nonlegislative House employees and various Senate workers.

Galion
F. J. Egner and Son, Inc., transporters of liquid products in Ohio with eight terminals throughout the state including the Galion garage and home office building, enjoyed a day at Heise Park when 156 of the 287 employees were present Sunday. Approximately 500 gathered for the first annual picnic of the company.
Softball games were interspersed throughout the day. Contests for all ages were held and prizes were carried home to many parts of Ohio. A welcome to Galion was given by Henry Egner, president of the company.
The problems of safety were discussed by Lt. W. B. Spence, commanding officer of the State Highway Patrol District No. Two, Bucyrus, at the Galion Rotary Club meeting Monday night. The safety problem concerns 50 million drivers, three and a half times that many pedestrians and three and one half million miles of highways, but the missing link in the safety program is the motive on the part of the driver to be careful, he said. He complimented Galion on its excellent safety record over the past five years without a fatality.
Visiting Rotarians were Warren E. Rupp, Robert K. Porter, H. E. Rupp, all of Mansfield, and Robert Martin of Marion.
Dr. John Crawford had charge of the Kiwanis program Tuesday noon at the Hotel Talbot. A film was shown on Radio Free Europe and the Crusade for Freedom. Dr. Charles Schinner was a guest. Singing was led by Dr. Donald Smith, accompanied by Kenneth Sterrett.
John McAnall presided at Tuesday night's meeting of the Lions Club at the Hotel Talbot. The program was a discussion of Galion's proposed school expansion program, presented by Russell Nichols, president of the Galion school board. He pointed out the pupil increase which has made an expansion program necessary.

Major Development in Closing Days of Congress

Ike Gains Control Over Foreign Policy

By JAY G. HAYDEN
WASHINGTON (NANA) — The most important feature of the congressional session just now is the degree to which President Eisenhower's control of foreign affairs has been solidified despite a Democratic majority in both houses.

Far from making new trouble for the President in the foreign field the Democratic Congress, under leadership of Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, has proved just what was needed to disperse the Republican isolationist wing which continually plagued Mr. Eisenhower during his first two years in office.

Taking over where the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg left off in his collaboration with President Truman during the Republican Congress of 1947-48, Sen. George has strengthened the tradition of non-partisanship in foreign affairs that it may become permanent regardless of future election results.

And certainly Vandenberg and George by brilliant marshaling of their respective parties in support of presidents of opposite political faith have contributed enormously to the avoidance of major war over the crucial last 10 years.

THE FIRST demonstration of bipartisan unity in the present Congress was the adoption in January, 1955 to 3 of a resolution giving the President unlimited authority to use the armed forces of the United States for defense of Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

That resolution was "prompted by Communist Chinese capture of the island of Yichang with the effect of forcing Nationalist Chinese evacuation of the neighboring Tachen Islands. With Sen. William Knowland of California and other powerful Republicans demanding all-out war against Communist China on account of its Yichang aggression disclosure of a split between the Republican president and the Democratic Congress on the issue very well might have encouraged Peiping to new attacks.

Actually, Sen. George's unqualified support of the President whipped Republican as well as Democratic senators into line. The only dissenters finally were Wayne Morse of Oregon and Herbert Lehman of New York Democrats and William Langer of North Dakota, Republican.

FOR WEEKS after that action the situation in the Formosan strait remained touch and go marked for example by the famous prophecy of Admiral Robert B. Carney, U. S. Chief of Naval Operations, that the Communists would attack Matsu Island about April 15. Both Chinese factions at that point seemed bent on precipitating war.

As successive incidents reaffirmed the Eisenhower-George solidarity on a policy of "peace by strength" however, tension in the Far East as in Europe, gradually has subsided.

As respects Republican opposition to Eisenhower's international leadership the latest brush was between Sen. George and Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) last Thursday.

McCarthy had moved to block the face-to-face meeting between U. S. and Communist China representatives at Geneva, unless Nationalist China was admitted as a third party. When George moved quietly to squelch that design he was accused by McCarthy of bottling up legislation. The following colloquy occurred.

George: "I do not care what the senator from Wisconsin thinks of the senator from Georgia."

McCarthy: "I think he is an excellent senator."

George: "Very well I wish I could reciprocate the compliment but I shall not perjure in self by any such statement as that."

McCarthy: "I wish to make clear that when I said in my opinion the senator from Georgia was a good senator, I was referring only to morals and things like that. I was not referring to his activities recently especially as chairman of the foreign relations committee."

George: "I thank the senator, I thank him very much. On the question of morality, I suppose I can agree that the senator from Wisconsin is a good moral man."

Dams in Missouri River Being 'Air Conditioned'

PIERRE, S. D. (UP) — Army engineers are 'air conditioning' the tunnels being constructed for the Oahe Dam on the Missouri River near here.

The tunnels are being dug through shale, which cracks when exposed to air. To keep the shale walls of the tunnels firm until concrete linings can be poured, the engineers introduce warm moist air into the tunnels. The air keeps the shale moist, preventing it from drying out and cracking.

False Fire Alarm Found A Collaborative Attempt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Two determined small boys here recently proved the truth in the old saying, "Where there's a will, there's a way."

Firemen reported a five-year-old boy boosted a four-year-old companion so he could reach a fire alarm box. The four-year-old broke the glass, then changed positions with his older friend who had the honor of pulling the alarm handle.

Police told them in the future to confine their gymnastic efforts to the playground.

Red Korean Deserts

SEOUL (AP) — A North Korean Communist military police sergeant crossed to the Allied side Wednesday and asked for political asylum. The U. S. 8th Army said. The Army said Sgt. Yi Kyang Pin declared he wanted to come south after watching both his own Communist army and U. N. forces in the joint demilitarized zone.

Step Made in Conquest of Disease

Two New Drugs Aid Arthritis Victims

By THOMAS R. HENRY

WASHINGTON (NANA) — A new day dawns for the country's 10,000,000 arthritic and rheumatic victims.

A long step toward conquest of the diseases is represented by two new synthetic drugs with which National Institute of Health Doctors have been experimenting for more than a year. They are from three to five times more effective than cortisone and its derivatives, as well as the pituitary gland hormone Acth which stimulates the natural secretion of cortisone by the adrenal glands. Effective in much smaller amounts, they do not have the bad side effects which sometimes prohibits use of cortisone.

These drugs are metacortandracin and metacortandralone. They were produced by chemists of a national drug company and provided to the Public Health Service doctors for testing. The tests have been carried out by a team consisting of Drs. J. J. Bunim, M. M. Pechet and A. J. Rollet of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases. Already, these tests have reached the stage at which the drugs can be prescribed by physicians.

"Miraculous" is hardly too strong a word for some of the results achieved to date. The Public Health Service doctors say. Still, they don't claim anything as exciting as a "cure." Arthritis are greatly improved but not permanently rid of the disease. There still are bad side effects.

Announcement of the discovery of the effects of cortisone and Acth by Mayo Clinic doctors six years ago was hailed as one of the great medical events of the century. But "bugs" soon began to appear.

There were the serious side effects. At least 15 per cent of patients showed no improvement. Another 15 per cent improved at first and then relapsed. One of the most serious side effects was the tendency to cause retention of salt and water in the body tissues with resulting dropsy-like swelling.

These natural hormones were still of great value but some of the first luster had worn off by last summer. The Public Health Service doctor, report. There was a general feeling that science had come to a dead end in its battle against probably the most crippling of all diseases. They started testing about every drug offered that had anti-rheumatic effects. Most of those submitted proved worthless. Some produced good effects overbalanced by bad effects.

THEN THE SCHERING Corp. a New York drug firm submitted metacortandracin for testing. Previous tests had indicated that it was not toxic had some anti-rheumatic qualities and could be tested with humans without danger.

A group of seven patients was selected, ranging in age from 16 to 67 years who had received about every treatment ever heard of with quite indifferent results. In all cases the arthritis had grown worse and worse. In some other treatments had caused serious side effects.

The response of each to administration of metacortandracin was spectacular. Each improved rapidly both physically and mentally. In no case were there serious side effects.

The responses were much the same as the best obtained with cortisone and Acth. The new drug apparently acted in about the same way, but the higher potency made possible a much smaller dose. The disease it was found could be almost completely controlled without paying for the improvement with such defects as the "moon face" so often associated with the natural hormones.

After tests of three months Dr. Bunim and his associates were sold on the new product.

SAYS A National Institute report.

Cortisone opened the door. Metacortandracin and metacortandralone have opened it more widely and have thrown more light on a research path that might lead to the ultimate answer. One very important fact has been learned—that by a very subtle change in the molecular structure of the steroid nucleus, objectionable features can be eliminated and the potency of a drug quadrupled. Further study will produce results of which the meta drugs are but precursors.

Meanwhile associates of the National Institute of Health are delving more deeply into the basic causes of arthritis and rheumatism—ailments which still are more or less mysteries to medical science.

One productive line of research has been analysis of the chemical constitution of human connective tissue by Dr. Karl Mayer of Columbia University. He has already isolated from this connective tissue an hitherto unknown substance, an acid which can be broken down into three hitherto unknown types of sugars. Differences in the composition of several body tissues also have been found. Such findings are basic to ultimate interpretation of normal and abnormal states of the connective tissues and their changes with aging and pathological conditions.

Board To Study State's Truck Tax Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Motor Vehicle Reciprocity Board will meet Friday to take the next step in seeking a solution to the state truck tax problem.

Robert L. Moulton, board chairman, called the meeting at the best of Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Moulton, who also is chairman of the state utilities commission, said the board probably would decide the form of notices to other states that Ohio plans to change its agreements that exempt motorists from license fees outside their home state.

Moulton said Ohio probably would seek to amend those agreements under threat of cancellation if the other states refuse.

The action follows an Ohio Supreme Court decision holding the Ohio-Michigan reciprocity agreement signed in 1937 applies to the state's tax on big trucks, enacted in 1953.

The court ordered truck taxes refunded to Michigan truckers and officials said other states might seek similar refunds.

The Rio Grande River, which forms the international boundary between the United States and Mexico, is approximately 2,200 miles long.

Rep. Roger Cloud Posts Good Record

Ohio's House May Re-Elect Its Speaker

By KEED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U.P.) — Roger Cloud, Logan County farmer-contractor, is looking favorably on another term as Ohio House speaker.

Several times during the recent legislative session Cloud felt the top job in the House of Representatives was a man-killer. But after the 101st General Assembly adjourned, his feelings changed.

Cloud, a Republican serving his fourth term, emerged from six and a half months of law-making with the satisfaction of a task well done. He believes he could preside even better another time.

"This was a hard-working session," Cloud said in review. "The public has little real knowledge of the long hours spent on knotty problems by members of the Legislature in tedious committee meetings.

"THE LEGISLATURE made a good record. We dealt with some of the state's most difficult problems."

Cloud listed among major achievements new laws on mental health, workmen's compensation, narcotics, schools and portage, the latter to prepare Ohio for expanded commerce from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

He estimated 90 per cent of committee work involved fact-finding, a slow process. "If we had the facts before a session opened," he asserted, "it wouldn't take so long to get things done. And we'd avoid a last-minute jam on complicated problems."

The presiding officer expressed belief that for the first time the next Legislature would have the facts on major problems in advance.

The Legislative Service Commission already has undertaken studies on a hatful of major problems. That fact-finding body will delve into other before the 1957 session.

AS THE COMMISSION'S new chairman, Cloud will direct those studies.

Aside from the speakership, Cloud expressed a desire to be lieutenant governor or serve in Congress. A couple of men named Brown now hold those jobs. Cloud said he would not oppose them.

Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, 7th District congressman and member of the National GOP Committee, wants another term to round out 20 years in Washington. Lt. Gov. John Brown of Medina is eyeing the governorship but has not said what office he would seek.

Cloud still wonders how he found time to cope with big and little legislative problems, run his farm near DeGraff and keep his sewer building business going.

Conferences seemed endless. Speech-making demands were heavy. He often missed meals, lost sleep and sometimes failed to get home on weekends.

PRESSURES BUILT UP as the session progressed. He said they were heavier within the Legislature than from outside. Cloud tallied about 100 situations that "put me right in the middle." Tact, patience and a spirit of compromise pulled him through, he believes. That and previous experience as county commissioner and school board member.

Cloud said he felt that every legislator who sponsored a bill should be heard. That takes time. He ignored the advice of friends who urged him to save time by railroading things.

Cloud believes the result was more friends and greater accomplishments. Associates said he probably could be re-elected legislator and speaker for the asking. Just now Cloud appears ready, willing and able.

Control of Horror Comics Up to Parents, Dutch Say

By LEO HENDRICK

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (NANA) — The Dutch have conquered the horror comic book problem by declining to heap abuse on the literature itself — and placing all responsibility on the shoulders of parents and teachers.

In the Dutch view, other countries, including the U.S., treat symptom instead of disease when they point accusing fingers at the illustrated sex and violence as the source of all difficulty. The Netherlands stress their conviction that the comics exist only in homes and schools where parents and teachers allow them to enter.

To the rejoinder that to ban comics in the home is only to drive them underground, the Dutch retort that this is only an admission of weakness on the part of the parents. As one Dutch education official put it today: "Any child can lie, steal and make itself a public nuisance either underground or aboveground. It is up to the parents to see that it doesn't."

"A parent who can't instruct a child the difference between right and wrong, between good and bad in all things, comics included, is a disgrace as a parent."

Firm's Daily Paper Sets First Birthday

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — The Noon News is a year old. It may be the only daily employee newspaper in the country.

A Greeting Card firm circulates the Noon News to 2,000 employees daily and sends it to another 1,500 co-workers scattered in various other installations around the country. The 8 1/2 x 11-inch newspaper has been a client of the United Press since it began publication.

Company spokesmen said they felt their employees needed more than the company magazine, bulletin board announcements, and public address system service.

"Our daily newspaper has done an excellent job of improving employee communications," a spokesman said.

Baseball and the weather get into all issues, or at least the Kansas City A's are in it if they are at home. Some issues deal almost entirely with a company promotion, but most issues carry a good variety of late news, humor, items about plant visitors, and bits on policy and coming events.

The employees were polled about the paper, and they voted for its continuance, 99 per cent plus.

Tin-base alloys are widely used in costume jewelry and such pieces as ornamental handles for tableware.

Geiger Counter Helps Aussies In Rich Strike

SYDNEY, Australia (UP) — Three Australians who knew little about geiger counters and even less about uranium, discovered an outcrop of the precious metal that proved itself worth more than $250,000 to them.

The men, a former Royal Australian Air Force navigator, a garage mechanic and a veteran prospector, recently received the balance of $170,000 on a quarter-million dollar payment for the mine they discovered in the isolated Adelaide River district of the Northern Territory.

The three men went to the township of Adelaide River, 72 miles south of Darwin, on a weekend hunting trip in March, 1953. Senior member of the party was Jack Gardner, a 50-year-old veteran gold prospector. With him were William Lickiss, 30, the ex-navigator who is now chief draftsman at the Northern Territory Lands Branch, and Geoffrey Lennox, a service station mechanic.

Gardner promised to teach them something about gold prospecting and Lennox decided to take the geiger counter along "just for laughs."

Advice Was Plentiful

Uranium experts in Darwin chuckled at the idea of taking the counter along, and scorned attempts to find anything in the Adelaide River region. They advised the trio to "get out into the backblocks," where no one had been prospecting before.

When they arrived at Adelaide River, which has a population of 50, a police station, a school and a hotel, they found the locals as sceptical as the Darwinians.

The would-be gold prospectors were told that there was no gold near the town, although there was a gold-rush at Stapleton, 11 miles from Adelaide River, in the 1880's.

They parked their car at the side of a bush track, and trekked off into the tall "speart" grass, looking for kangaroos and other game.

Counter Counts

They were getting a little discouraged when they came upon a small hill dotted with stunted trees and named "Old Smokey" by the local citizens. Lickiss remembered the hill from the days when, as a crew-member of a Beaufort bomber in the Pacific war, he returned from strikes against the Japanese. With the temperature in the low 90's, the men decided to look for gold on the hill.

Lennox, the only member of the trio who had any inkling of the operation of the geiger, after "fiddling around" with it in his office, carried the gadget as they started to climb the slopes of "Old Smokey."

Gardner and Lickiss knocked off a few pieces of rock before testing for traces of gold. Lennox was sitting on a rock a few yards away from the others and decided to switch on the counter for the first time. He let out a yell of surprise when he looked at the indicator. It registered seven to nine times background—enough to send any prospector to the nearest mines office.

Then They Payoff

They returned to the hill next day, keeping their discovery a secret. They scratched around, finding traces of tellurite with a count of 55 above background.

They returned to Darwin where Lennox, who knew about mining procedures, and armed with samples from "Smokey," applied for an authority to prospect in the area. He was granted an area of five square miles, and the three men formed a partnership.

A mining company — Uranium Development Proprietary, which later laid the ground for the entrance of the Australian Uranium Corporation as the official mining authority in the area—took the option on the area and paid the amateur uranium prospectors $80,000 in cash and shares. When the option was exercised last June, they received the balance of $170,000.

The once deep quiet of the Australian outback is now shattered by the rattle of diamond drills and other mining equipment as "Old Smokey" fulfills its destiny.

Two Men Travel 86,000 Miles for College Degree

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (UP) — Imagine traveling 86,000 miles to get your college degree!

Two Pittsfield men have commuted that distance between here and Troy, N. Y., during the past 10 years to study at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. They received bachelor of mechanical engineering degrees at the June commencement.

The men, Leonard R. Spencer and William E. Fessenden, both 38, have attended the evening classes at RPI three nights a week for the past 10 years. That's the time required under the evening program to complete the regular four-year academic course in mechanical engineering.

Plans Lima Plant

CLEVELAND (UP)—Standard Oil Co. of Ohio has announced plans to build an $800,000 dry-ice plant at Lima, Ohio, as part of its petrochemical works now under construction there. The firm said the new dry-ice unit should be in full production by next May 1. It will have an annual capacity of nearly 55 million pounds.

Midland Life Insurance Co. Is Now Mutual

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — George W. Steinman, board chairman of Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co. here, said yesterday the board had approved converting from a stock to a mutual company.

The move, in effect, will transfer ownership of the 49-year-old firm from about 100 stockholders to the policyholders, which number about 100,000 he said.

Three more steps are necessary before the change can be made, Steinman said. It must be approved by stockholders, then by a majority of the eligible policyholders. The stock is then appraised and redeemed with funds in the company treasury.

Steinman said mutualization was provided for in the company charter.

Chester O. Sullivan, company president, said Mutual Life Insurance companies are taxed the same as stock companies.

Sullivan said Midland Mutual is licensed to do business in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Kentucky, West Virginia, New Jersey, Virginia, North Carolina, California, Tennessee and Iowa. The company has no offices in Tennessee and Iowa however.

Steinman said there are 3,000 shares of outstanding stock with a paid-in value of $300,000. Stock dividends, he said, are limited to 10 per cent or $10 per $100 share. The mutualization would do away with payments of dividends to stockholders.

Marion Residents Buy Restaurant in Wyandot

CAREY—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbons have sold their restaurant here to Mr. and Mrs. George Black of Marion, who took possession Monday. The sale included the fixtures, equipment and stock. Black was formerly employed by the Isaly Dairy Co. for 20 years. He managed stores in Tiffin and Bucyrus before becoming a district supervisor, the position he held when he resigned to accept employment with the Marion Engineer Depot.

Black, his wife and their three children, Carol, Danny and Ruth, will move after Aug. 15 to the second floor apartment in the restaurant building, which is owned by Mrs. Eva Trubey of Lorain.

DOUBLE JET ACE, NEW FAMILY. Capt. and Mrs. Harold Fischer Jr. are shown just before they were married at Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery, Ala., uniting their families. Mrs. Fischer has her arm about her husband's son by a previous marriage, Harold III, 6, while Dana Lynn, Mrs. Fischer's 5-year-old daughter, completes the family group. Capt. Fischer, of Swea City, Iowa, was recently freed by the Chinese Reds.

Charles P. Taft Will Seek Council Seat

CINCINNATI (U) — Charles P. Taft, who was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Ohio in 1952, again will be a Charter Party candidate this year for the Cincinnati city council.

The Charter Party is a coalition of Democrats and independent Republicans.

Taft, a brother of the late Republican U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, long has been a member of the Charter Party in local politics and served as a Charter member of the council from 1937 to 1942 and from 1948 to 1951.

Vice Mayor Mrs. Dorothy Dolbey, John J. Gilligan, Vince H. Beckman and Theodore Berry, current Charter members of the council also were named to the party's slate. Others named were Edward C. Ahlers, John A. Benjamin, Robert W. Hilton Jr., and Robert D. Sullivan.

More Sponsors Sought By Refugee Committee

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — The chairman of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's advisory committee on refugee relief has issued an appeal for more people to sponsor displaced Europeans. Under the federal refugee relief act, which provides for admission of 205,000 refugees, a U. S. citizen must sponsor each immigrant. The sponsor gives assurance the immigrant will have a job, housing, and will not become a public charge. The Rev. Clyde N. Rogers, chairman of the advisory committee, appealed for more sponsors after returning from a Washington conference on the program with President Eisenhower.

Warden Believes Convicted Slayer Has Gone Berserk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — Ohio Penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis says convicted slayer William Garner of Cincinnati, awaiting execution in a death row cell, "appears to be insane."

Alvis made the statement in a letter to Common Pleas Judge Myron B. Gessaman, who announced yesterday that Garner will be given a hearing Aug. 12 to determine his sanity.

Garner, 36, is scheduled to be electrocuted Aug. 25 for the murder of Mrs. Laura Walker, 34, in a Cincinnati cafe on March 6, 1954. He was originally scheduled to die last Oct. 8, but courts twice stayed the execution and the governor granted a reprieve once.

Alvis said psychiatrists found Garner "psychotic." He would be sent to Lunatic State Hospital if the court finds him insane.

$500,000 Damage Suit Names Three Attorneys

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (U) — A $500,000 damage suit was filed yesterday against three members of an investigating committee of the Mahoning County Bar Assn. as a result of the association's charges of misconduct against five lawyers.

Clinton T. Wall, one of the five lawyers, asked private proceedings last February when the three bar association committee members filed charges against him. Instead, he said, the bar association committee members "maliciously caused and permitted the printing and publication" that he had been "charged with malpractice and misconduct."

The three defendants in the damage suit, Paul Stevens, Raleigh P. Swanner and Robert Murphy, had no comment.

Bandit Hides in Rough, Holds Up Two Golfers

DETROIT (U) — Golfing brothers lost more than a stroke when they drove into the rough on the ninth hole of the Birch Hill course Wednesday.

While Donald and William Fisher were looking for a ball, a masked man pointed a gun at them and yelled.

"Stick 'em up. This is a holdup. Gamme what you've got!" Donald handed over $6 from his wallet. When William said all he had was a golf ball, the holdup man demanded that William complied.

Jobless Checks Are Awarded Only Those Willing To Work

CHICAGO (UP) — Illinois officials have a pretty simple formula for determining, in most cases, whether to approve applications for unemployment compensation. The formula is just nine words. Is the applicant "able to work?" "actively seeking work?"

Chairman Louis N. Blumenthal of the state labor department's board of review said eligibility often depends on the answers to those questions. Most of the cases appealed to his board center on that eligibility issue, he said, and the decision isn't always easy.

One jobless laborer said Chicago's 20-cent carfare kept him from trying more than a handful of plants for a job.

The board agreed that steadily rising fares are a "serious" problem for job-seekers, but turned down his claim saying the able-bodied man could have walked to several nearby factories to apply for work.

Many of life's problems, the board said, can be solved faster "by wearing out a little shoe leather rather than the seat of one's trousers."

Then there was the woman who cooked kosher food and found herself out of a job. She said she had applied only at other Chicago eating places that serve kosher food — 27 of them.

The board upheld this application, ruling it wasn't unreasonable for her to seek employment only as a kosher cook.

The question of whether the claimant was "actively seeking work" came up when a clerk at a racetrack betting window sought unemployment compensation in winter, when the tracks were closed.

The clerk said he often visited taverns, seeking work as a bartender, without any luck. He testified he lined up a job in a handbook, too, but it fell through.

The board said "when we track down the evidence and give it the proper weight," his efforts to find a job fell short "by many lengths."

Boost in Pay Scheduled for 40,000 Miners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor day will bring a wage increase for an estimated 40,000 miners producing coal for use by the government.

A United Mine Workers Union source estimated that number of non-union miners would benefit from Secretary of Labor Mitchell's order yesterday fixing minimum wage rates for soft coal mined under government contract.

For most of them it will mean a boost to $2.24 an hour for the time they are working on government contracts. All wage rates except that for generally non-union Iowa followed the pattern of UMW contracts.

Mitchell imposed the minimums yesterday under authority of the Walsh-Healy public contracts act, which gives him authority to fix and require payment of prevailing local labor rates on government contracts. His action applied to law to the coal industry for the first time.

He directed that the new scales become effective 30 days from their official publication in the federal register, scheduled for Saturday. The effective date thus would be Labor Day, Sept. 5. Mitchell said objections will be received until that time.

The order will affect principally the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA), which bought about three-fourths of the 13 million tons of coal purchased last year by government agencies. TVA has bought substantial quantities of non-union coal under contracts let by competitive bidding.

The new hourly rates for government contract work will range from $1.40 in Iowa to $2.34 in Montana. The union had asked a $2.09 rate for Iowa, where little coal is produced.

The $2.24 rate applies to areas which produce four-fifths of the nation's coal. It covers Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Eastern Kentucky and Northern Tennessee.

Firm Declares Dividend

Directors of Whirlpool Corp. Tuesday increased the regular quarterly cash dividend from 30 cents to 33 cents per common share, it was announced by Elisha Gray II, president. The 35-cent dividend is payable Sept. 10, 1955, to stock of record at the close of business Aug. 31, 1955.

This is the 110th consecutive cash dividend declared on common stock since incorporation of the company in 1929.

City of Chicago Marking 125th Anniversary Now

CHICAGO (AP)—Today is Chicago's birthday, the 125th anniversary of the nation's second largest city.

On Aug. 4, 1830, a surveyor named James Thompson signed the plat establishing Chicago. Its original area was bounded by what are now State, Madison, Union, and Hubbard Streets.

Whites To Boycott Integrated School In Arkansas Town

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—More than 150 white persons agreed last night to boycott schools in this northeast Arkansas town until racial integration is abolished.

They signed a resolution presented at a town meeting by Herbert Brewer, a farmer, and they agreed to withhold their children from school, starting today.

Hoxie, like many towns in the east Arkansas cotton land, starts its fall term early in order to be able to close during harvest season.

Integration went into effect without incident with the opening of

Patrolman Transferred Here From Norwalk Post

Transfer of W. V. Worner from the Norwalk post to the Marion post of the state highway patrol was made today.

Worner, associated with the patrol for five years, is a native of Belville. He is married and has one son and one daughter and plans to move his family to Marion as soon as he can locate housing.

With the addition of Worner, there are now nine patrolmen assigned to the Marion post. Cpl. D. M. Dewalt is the officer in charge.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1955

The City Transportation Puzzle

The cessation of operations by the Marion City Lines and the decision of City Council not to attempt municipal ownership leaves Marion again with no bus service—a predicament that has become fairly common here the last couple of years.

We can find some small consolation in the fact that the situation is not limited to Marion. Most cities Marion's size, and many larger, are having trouble keeping their bus companies in operation.

The trend in recent years simply has been in the direction of less dependence on buses. Whether that trend will be reversed in a few years, when downtown traffic and parking problems grow much worse, remains to be seen.

The percentage of regular bus riders in Marion admittedly is fairly small in ratio to the population. Regardless, for those people who have depended on the buses, the situation now becomes critical.

It is true that a city Marion's size can get along without bus service for a time on an emergency basis. It has been done before here, and as recently as early last year, when the city was without bus service for several months.

But on a long-term basis it is unsound and unhealthy for a city of nearly 40,000 to be without public transportation.

We don't have any immediate solution to the puzzle, although we wish we did. We do believe that the problem should not now be shoved out of sight, and therefore out of mind. On the contrary, every avenue should be explored in a continuing effort to come up with the answer. There has to be a solution somewhere.

Meanwhile, even though it proved a losing cause, we think the Chamber of Commerce, the downtown merchants and all other organizations and individuals who have fought so determinedly the last 15 months to keep the Marion City Lines in business deserve a vote of thanks for a good battle. They didn't give up the ship—the ship sank from under their feet.

A New Kind of Bomb

During the 10 years since "a new kind of bomb" was dropped on Hiroshima, profound changes have occurred in more places than nuclear physics.

In 1955 the 1945 bombs had become commonplace. They had wiped out many of the great cities of Europe and were being dropped on the cities of Japan in saturation raids; i.e., raids designed to destroy all property and life in a given area.

The super-bomb dropped on Hiroshima was only one more bomb, designed to do more thoroughly what was regarded as a necessary military task. Preparatory to the invasion of the Japanese islands, the United States had to soften up Japanese ability to resist.

The implication of the "new kind of bomb" was not clear in August, 1945. It has taken 10 years of comprehension and development of vastly more destructive bombs to make it clear.

It is the demonstrable fact that men have learned how to make the earth uninhabitable before they have learned how to keep themselves from doing it.

Their "new kind of bomb" is the power to destroy humanity.

Comprehension has lagged far behind the fact. It may never catch up in the twisted thinking of some authoritarian politician aspiring to be a war god; that is the world's danger in the atomic era.

If Hitler and Goering had possessed atom bombs, they could have fulfilled their ambition to terrorize the world. Instead, the United States came into possession first, and Americans had no wish to terrorize the world.

They did not want to terrorize Hiroshima and Nagasaki and are still trying to make amends for what had to be done somewhere to reveal the implication of the "new kind of bomb"—that the power to make atomic war was the power to destroy mankind.

You Are There

When all else fails and you are writhing at the melting point, quit thinking about the heat and concentrate on the cold.

It is 3 a.m. the night of a blizzard. The temperature has been going down, down, down. The car radiator will be frozen by morning, and the battery will be unequal to the task of turning over the frigid engine.

You are huddled in bed with your legs drawn up to keep your feet warm. The gale is humming through the TV mast on the roof. It strikes you with sudden, painful force that something has gone wrong with the heating system; the house is cold.

You find your slippers, struggle into a warm bathrobe and pad downstairs to learn the worst. Your fears are well founded. SOMETHING IS WRONG WITH THE HEATING SYSTEM.

You are shivering. You are stranded. Pipes will freeze and burst unless you shut off the water. You will freeze and burst. Your loved ones will freeze and burst. You curse winter, its sniffling, its never ending threat of trouble, its ice, its snowdrifts. You promise yourself that some day you will shake the slush and snow off your feet and go where it is warm.

You are there. . .
What are you complaining about?

England, France Playing Into Red China's Hand

More than 33,000 American boys were killed and nearly 104,000 were wounded in repelling Communist aggression in Korea—and the Red China government is primarily responsible for the crime.

Not a word of repentance has come from the government at Peiping and, in fact, the Red Chinese leaders have perpetrated publicly the lie that their organized armies did not intervene in Korea and that the million Red Chinese troops who moved in there with Russian planes and equipment were only "volunteers." This lie is still the official Peiping view. It has never been withdrawn.

Yet, in the face of these facts and these frauds, the British and French governments are willing to accept Red China into the United Nations and forsake the nationalist government of China, with its 500,000-man army based on Formosa. Throughout the world the Red China government is winning a propaganda victory. By releasing 11 American airmen who have been held captive for many months in direct violation of the terms of the armistice signed at Panmunjom, the Red China government is being welcomed as a "peace-loving" and friendly nation. Editorials in the European press hail the Red China action as a sign of a "new" attitude and as an augury of peace.

WHEN THE NAZIS and the militaristic Japanese ordered atrocities to be committed against the troops of Allied nations, the persons responsible were later tried as "war criminals." Both Germany and Japan were punished through the defeat of their armies and by the severe terms imposed.

Red China, however, has not been defeated and no punishment has been meted out. In fact, territory in South Korea has been given to the Communists. Both the British and French governments, moreover, are ready to reward the Red China government by admitting it to the Security Council of the United Nations. Everywhere abroad it is being said that American public opinion is changing and that after the lapse of a short time the United States government will bow to the wishes of its European allies and let them vote the Red China government into the United Nations.

There is the greatest danger, however, to Europe if any such event shall come to pass. For if the 30,000 American lives sacrificed in Korea mean so little today to the consciences of the British and French governments, then it will only arouse many Americans to debate whether membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is after all worthwhile.

Indeed, if American boys are to be sacrificed to the enemy and the cause for which they fought is to be ignored in an abject surrender of moral principle, then isolationism will gain more ground than it did in the 1920's.

ALREADY IT IS questionable whether the British and French governments will ever allow American air bases abroad to be used to bombard Russia with atomic bombs even if America is attacked. Many a military man, therefore, has been praying for intercontinental bombers in large quantities to be built so that American troops can be withdrawn from Europe altogether.

If, as seems apparent, the British and French governments are ready to ignore American sacrifices in Korea in a policy of appeasement and if the Eisenhower administration yields to them, the presidential campaign may have the liveliest issue in 1956 it has had since 1920.

In that year, many of us who supported American entry into the League of Nations were overwhelmingly defeated because of a widespread belief that European nations were playing the American people for "suckers."

It is most unfortunate that there are some senators who are charging that a "sell out" is contemplated by the Eisenhower administration on the Red China issue. The wiser course is being pursued by Sen. Knowland, who is giving the Eisenhower administration credit for every sincere intention to avoid a "sell out."

THE REAL PROBLEM, however, is not in Washington at all. It is in London and Paris, where there is a determination to "sell out" and throw away 500,000 Nationalist troops on Formosa and the 650,000 South Korean troops—both of which armies are a bulwark of strength against the gobbling up of the Philippines and Japan by the Communists.

It is the pressure upon the United States by its European allies which is mounting. That's why further debate inside the United States as to what the 30,000 American boys died for is going to become pertinent.

Many observers are saying how wonderful it is to arrive the lives of the 11 American airmen because, after all, the 30,000 dead cannot be brought back to life. But there also are many thousands of Americans still alive who were wounded in Korea. They are home or in hospitals, but they are maimed and disabled.

THE RED CHINESE are responsible for a major crime against the United Nations. Yet the European governments, forgetting the sufferings of the wounded and the million or more Americans who risked their lives in Korea, are willing now to appease the Red Chinese just because they have released 11 American airmen who should never have been held after the Panmunjom armistice.

British newspapers are crying out in sensational headlines that peace is coming to the Far East—just because of this so-called "concession."

The British in 1938 just after the Munich appeasement were glibly believing peace was at hand, and so were many of us in America. But an appeasement in 1955 will not be so easily accepted by the Americans who, though fooled before, had to fight to save Britain and France in a second World War and may be called upon to save Europe when Asia has been irreversibly lost to the Communists. The Doldrums

By TRUMAN TWILL

And it came to pass in the land of the Eager Beavers that the crash and clatter of activity was stilled and a thick, phlegmatic silence descended over the Beavers and their multifarious pursuits.

The angry sun glared down on an ominously quiet scene blurred by shimmering heat waves and curling wisps of smoke from smoldering Beaver tails that had recently been ablaze. The season of the doldrums had come to Eager Beaverland.

Mighty projects and plottings were put aside for some future time. The highways and byways were empty. The steaming caverns where Gregarious Beavers were wont to cluster together were full of echoing emptiness.

The Beaver Congress in the busy capital of Beaverdom, a place called Washington, had given up its wood-gnawing and log-rolling and scattered to parts unknown, there to heal the wounds inflicted on tender pelts by the loyal opposition.

Key Beavers in the marts of trade, industry, commerce and entertainment were doing whatever key beavers do when the sun glares down and it finally gets hot enough for everybody. Lesser Beavers were respirating in slow motion while studying postcards inscribed: "Wish you were here, ha, ha!"

The intake of Beaver biscuits was far off the pace per capita. The makers of Beaver buggies had tooted the whistles in the signal to stand by to go fishing while the designers pondered the problem of how to rearrange the bright work on the 1955 models.

Beavers with heads shaped like eggs were lying indolently in their academic nests reading comic books they had put aside for just such an occasion. "You can't be coming up with radical eyes and soul-stirring thoughts all the time," they murmured, to justify their lethargy about learning.

It was taken for granted that drone Beavers, who didn't need to justify their lethargy about anything, had transferred their loafing from their winter hangouts under the magnolias and palms to their doldrum-season hideaways among the pines and deciduous summer hotels. But no one cared about them.

In all kinds of out-of-the-way places and in many places centrally located, bushy Beavers were lying on their backs staring at the ceiling, or on their stomachs staring at the floor. They were cruising in boats, burrowing in the sand, climbing hills and splashing in the water. But they were not being Eager Beavers. They were playing their doldrum-season role of Enervated Beavers, instead—and some of them were so convincing it was hard to imagine they ever would bustle their bustles or flash their fangs again.

But as suddenly as the doldrums come, they go away. The crash and clatter one day will be resumed. Beavers of all ages and sizes will begin to build dams and tear up the landscape again. Little Beavers will trudge off to learn how to be Eager Beavers. Big Beavers will juggle three telephones and a secretarial assistant with beaverlike aplomb. Dixon and Yates will be served up hot and steaming, the bright work on the new Beaver buggies will be entrancing, the egg-headed Beavers will put away their comic books and become professional and the land of the Eager Beavers once more will be full of fun and frenzy.

But not yet, Ruster. Why don't you go play quietly with the other Beavers and let Papa enjoy the doldrums?

The books that help you most, are those which make you think the most.—Theodore Parker.

Swarming Abroad

Dulles Spars With Chou En-lai

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
Secretary of State Dulles and Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai may know nothing about prize fighting.

Nevertheless, they have been sparring around spryly in the diplomatic ring, exchanging words instead of punches, from their corners on opposite sides of the world. This is what diplomats call probing each other's intentions.

They might have done better by exchanging ideas quietly. But Dulles and Chou are not on direct speaking terms. The United States doesn't recognize Red China. Since they can't just call each other up, they, being statesmen, make statements.

SOME MORE REAL probing may be done at Geneva, where ambassadors of the two countries right now are talking about the return home of American prisoners in China and Chinese in the United States.

But, since progress at Geneva may lead to a Dulles-Chou meeting later, everything the two men say at each other now across a continent and an ocean may have significance toward making that meeting possible or impossible.

Dulles acknowledged July 25 he didn't know what Chou was up to with his recent peaceful gestures, such as releasing some American prisoners and toning down the shooting around Quemoy and Matsui. It might be just propaganda, he said.

WHILE EVERYTHING the two men say is aimed at each other, some of it certainly is intended for friends and critics at home and abroad, all of whom are watching to see whether one side or the other is weakening.

For example, Dulles ruled out any deal to sacrifice Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, American allies, in exile on Formosa. Chou himself must have known Dulles could have said nothing else. In this country Chiang's supporters have voiced misgivings about any deals with Red China since they feared Chiang might lose out.

And Dulles raised the question, in a sort of tentative way, whether Chou would be willing to renounce the use of force in trying to get Formosa.

CHOU CAME BACK with a statement July 30 as if the answer to Dulles' question as to whether Red China really wanted peace, Chou said it did because it had a tough propaganda, but then Chou said that if the United States—he was polite enough not to name it but only referred to the "great powers"—wanted peace it must abandon its military bases around China and give up its alliances in Asia. Chou knew, as well as Dulles, that if anything like that happened it would be a long time from now.

As for settling problems peacefully instead of by force, Chou said that's exactly what Red China wants.

IN THE SAME breath he told the United States to keep its nose out of Red China's efforts to get Formosa.

Dulles replied with another statement on Aug. 2, still demanding the Red Chinese renounce the use of force although how that's to be done is not clear.

And so it has been going. But since both men have been rather polite, in comparison with how they talked at each other in the past, this may be considered a mark of progress. But there's still a long way to go.

Newspaper Best Bargain

EAST LANSING, MICH.

The newspaper you're reading right now is today's best and biggest bargain.

That's the conclusion of a Michigan State University professor who has made a study of newspapers.

The authority is Dr. Herbert Lee Williams of the MSU College of Communication Arts. Dr. Williams is co-author of "Newspaper Organization and Management," a book both for schools and the trade to be published in September.

Dr. Williams in an interview cited the nickel cigar, the bus ride, the cup of coffee and the candy bar as a few typical items that have jumped in price with inflation.

In contrast, he said, the average newspaper has held the line at a price of five or six cents.

WITH TODAY'S king size newspaper editions, Dr. Williams said, the reader is getting more than five or six cents' worth of paper alone when he buys his newspaper.

"Today," he said, "a single sheet of unprinted newspaper costs less than one tenth of a cent. This means that when you pay six cents for a 56-page newspaper you are getting slightly more than five cents worth of paper alone and are paying less than a cent for the reading matter it contains.

"The physical newspaper," he said, "is nothing more than a container or package. The real product publishers offer for sale is news and information. But what other discarded container is used so universally by the American family for everything from protecting the floor or cleaning the skillet to spreading on the picnic table?"

Newspapers in the larger cities, he said, regularly issue from four to 10 issues a day, each one of which contains enough reading matter to make more than a 300-page book.

"But do they get book prices?" Dr. Williams asked. "Even 15 cents for a new book would be an incredible bargain."

DR. WILLIAMS contended that newspaper publishers have fought a better fight against inflation than most other producers of consumer goods.

In contrast to most other businesses, he said, the typical newspaper has reduced its profits and absorbed the mounting costs of operation in order to avoid passing them on to the public in the form of price increases or reduction in the size of the product.

"Continuing cost studies reveal," he said, "that for more than a decade, now newspapers have watched the profit margin shrink nearer and nearer the break-even point."

In 1954, the national average of gross newspaper profit was just 11 per cent and the net profit barely above five per cent."

The MSU professor said that about the only other common commodity that has held the line against inflationary trend is chewing gum, which generally still sells for a nickel.

"But chewing gum is not recognized in the United States Constitution as essential to the American way of life," he added.

The Once Over

Disney for Air Secretary

After almost a week's study, the details of Ike's outer-space satellite still puzzle us and we think they can be explained only by a super scientist with a vodka base. All we know is that America at last has something that can't be forced down by a poor earnings statement, a proxy fight or a denial of a three-for-one stock split.

Ike had to go into outer space for it, but he has found something that the Democrats can't bring down with a Senate probe.

The thing is too deep for us, but a basketball making a trip around the world every 90 minutes will not surprise us. We always knew that, without interference from a referee's whistle, a basketball could get greater distance.

WHAT AMAZES US is that Ike is doing this without DeMille, Mike Todd, Dunninger or NATO. Even if the satellite fails, the Democrats won't benefit, inasmuch as the record shows that Harry Truman got nothing 300 miles into the air at 18,000 miles per hour except the Gallup poll and a music critic of Margaret's voice.

All the Democrats can do when the "basketball" goes up is to have an "Is this trip necessary?" inquiry by Estes Kefauver.

Scientists expect to solve important problems including: 1. Can the gravitational force pulling on the N. Y. Giants be escaped? 2. Can a Republican project 300 miles up traveling 18,000 miles an hour elude Wayne Morse?

LEO DUROCHER HAS volunteered to be the only passenger. He says nothing worse can happen to him than already has happened. The satellite will cost us 10 billion and we will give all the data to Russia, China and the rest of the world free, thus establishing the First Outer Space Giveaway Program.

We hope a way will be found to help pay the bill through commercials for a beer, a cigarette or an icebox.

Scientists will follow the ball with delicate instruments. The average man will follow it with binoculars, hard cider, the Dow-Jones averages and Pentagon colonels. We have but one positive belief. This is that Ike will yet make Walt Disney secretary of air.

SOME SIDEWALK OPINIONS:

Eph Tuttle, brush salesman: "They will never solve the Rubinstein and Crater cases that way."

Morgan Hostettlers, hotel operator: "Yes, I know what the scientists say but I am withholding my opinion until I hear what their psychiatrists say."

Leslie Phudds, political analyst: "This is a triumph for Eisenhower unless Stevenson shows he can send a basketball higher cheaper."

Artemus Finch, slot machine inspector: "It's those Washington cocktail parties. After some of those dry martinis it is possible to get a moon to fly around a basketball."

WE CAN'T UNDERSTAND why the sideshow Barker for the fire-eater doesn't shout that the freak has "the liveliest taste in toby."

Remember away back when nobody turned in the old car for a new one rather than go through the bother of washing it and changing the oil.

Man can't operate an auto properly on the ground, get between two given points in traffic on Sunday inside of five hours, cure the common cold or climb on a stepladder without an accident, yet he is now going for a satellite that will take him into outer space at 18,000 miles per hour! What puzzles us is that America can get a basketball 300 miles in the air and on around-the-world-every-hour-and-a-half basis but can't get Harry Bridges onto a boat for Europe.

The 1956 cars will have more pushbuttons. . . It may soon be possible to bowl out a fellow motorist by electronics and find on the dashboard a gadget that will register contempt for everybody else using a highway.

More than 130 persons attended a picnic dinner at the Claridon Township house following a morning service celebrating the founding of the Claridon M. E. Church 115 years previously.

10 YEARS AGO—General MacArthur announced he had taken command of all American-occupied islands in the Ryukyu chain south of Japan—including Okinawa—as bases "from which a mighty invasion force is being forged" for the subjugation of Japan. Okinawa and about a dozen islands to the west were conquered by combined forces under Admiral Nimitz, but recently MacArthur's Far East air forces had moved into air bases there and had staged daily raids on the southernmost "fortress island" of Kyushu.

Germany would lose still more thousands of square miles of territory, diplomatic authorities analyzing the Potsdam communique predicted. They noted the decisions reached by President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee on territorial changes concerned only those in eastern Europe which were most urgent by reason of Russian and Polish demands.

Path Is Cleared For Ex-Student To Stay in U.S.

WASHINGTON (U)—As a 19-year-old youngster in Teheran, Iran, Bruno Kiuru gladly accepted a scholarship to Ohio Wesleyan University.

Kiuru knew that in making this decision he would lose his place on the immigration waiting list of those wanting to go to the United States. But he took the scholarship anyway.

This was in 1949. In his first semester there, according to records in Congress, Kiuru passed all his subjects. But he failed everything in the second semester and in 1952 "officially dropped"—according to the immigration service.

So a year later, the service issued a warrant for his arrest for failure to "maintain his exempt status as a student." When he refused to leave the country on his own initiative, deportation proceedings were started.

Then Kiuru, who by this time was living with his Finnish parents in Cleveland, appealed to Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio). His parents arrived in the United States from Iran Dec. 5, 1952, under the regular immigration quota.

Mrs. Bolton put a bill in the hopper granting him residence here. Congress passed the bill and President Eisenhower signed it into law.

As Mrs. Bolton put it: "The only place he could possibly go would be Finland. He has never been there, and, of course, has no family or friends there."

Tharp Named Director Of Dispatch Advertising

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The Dispatch Printing Co. today announced the appointment of Melvin E. Tharp, 38, as advertising director of The Columbus Evening Dispatch. He succeeds Lewis B. Hill, who died recently. Tharp has been assistant to the advertising director since last May and began working for the Dispatch in June 1938.

The Dispatch also announced appointment of advertising manager Guy H. Bullock to the position of director of retail advertising. Bullock, with the Dispatch since 1910, was named advertising manager in 1947.

CATAWISSA, Mo. (UP)—The winds blow hard off the upper Great Lakes, and Cletus Apke, who lives here about 450 miles from New London, Wis., can prove it.

On April 5, Harold Behnke of New London threw some old papers in the city dump. He thought he had seen the last of them.

But early in June Behnke got a letter from Apke, enclosing a receipted Behnke electric bill, an old letter and a hand drawn map.

Apke said he found the papers in a field on his farm, 35 miles southwest of St. Louis.

Plans are for the center to expand with remodeling of the second floor of the building so that approximately 30 patients could be accommodated. Only the first floor is being used now.

Mexican Oil Company Plans Huge Reductions in Exporting

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The abundant supplies of refined petroleum products, will, in turn, be able to grow and provide additional employment.

Coordination. Pemex plans are being coordinated with those of other industries and are based on expectations of a steady improvement in the nation's agriculture, industry and business.

The government company looks on each new automobile, truck or internal combustion engine sold in Mexico as another customer. In all but a few border areas, Pemex supplies all motor fuel and lubricants used in Mexico.

Petroleum Mexico's slogan long has been "produce what the country needs." In actual practice, however, as Pemex needed dollars for expansion purposes—to keep crude production greater than domestic demand—much of the oil industry's output was destined for export.

Bermudez said that Pemex itself will create more jobs and boost Mexican living standards by increasing its refining operations.

Now, with the nation's economic prospect improving, Pemex feels it can almost double production and depend to an ever-increasing extent on the domestic market.

Trade With U. S.

Much of Mexico's sales abroad of crude and fuel oil are made to the United States. Some smaller amounts of Mexican petroleum also are sold in western Europe and Latin America.

Exports amount to about 2,000,000 barrels a month, approximately a fifth of total production. Export sales are made at market prices, between $2 and $2.50 (U. S.) per barrel, depending on grade and product.

Pemex is now producing at the rate of more than 100,000,000 barrels a year. Domestic consumption last year amounted to 60,625,000 barrels, with the market value of refined products estimated at about $11 (U. S.). The difference between the value of a barrel of crude oil in the export market and the barrel of refined product, in Mexico, is counted on to keep Pemex operations profitable.

Bermudez believes the net result of Pemex plan will be an increase in trade with the United States.

Mexico is now the third ranking U. S. customer.

"If we can continue to develop our nation in the future as we have in the past—raising the standard of living of the rank and file, hiking the buying power of the public—there is no reason why Mexico cannot be permanently the United States' number one customer in the entire world," he said.

41 German Coal Miners Believed Killed in Blast

SELSENKIRCHEN, Germany (U)—Forty-one German coal miners were believed dead today in a fire and explosion which rocked the Dalbusch workings in this Ruhr city.

Another 44 miners were injured, some of them seriously.

Fire raging through the mine halted rescue operations. Mine officials said 25 workers still missing below ground "must be presumed dead."

Rescue teams had brought up 16 bodies before the fire drove them out.

The explosion followed a fire in the mine Wednesday.

X-rays were first discovered in 1895.

Buffalo Students Build Own Electronic Brain

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Students at Hutchinson Central Technical High School are building an electro-magnetic computer, more commonly known as an "electronic brain."

Aaron L. Buchman, a mathematics teacher at Hutchinson, is directing the construction of the brain. He has studied the development of computers since the first commercial machine was produced 12 years ago. Funds were appropriated by the board of education for the "brain," which is expected to cost about $1,000.

"There will be a big demand for people trained in this field," said Buchman.

"The students would require a great deal of further education before they are trained operators," he added, "but our project will give them a basic grounding in electronic computing."

Motorist Crashes Tracks in Galion; Assessed $50 Fine

GALION—A 26-year-old Cleveland man, William Knighton, was fined $50 and costs in municipal court here Wednesday as the result of an automobile accident resulting in injury to a Cardington girl and damage to the Erie Railroad tracks.

Mary Ann Shaffer, 17, of near Cardington, a passenger in the car, was treated and released from Community Hospital for contusions of the left chest and abrasions of the right elbow.

Miss Rosalie M. Lyon Wed To D. L. Miller at Caledonia

Memorial Methodist Church in Caledonia was the scene of the wedding of Miss Rosalie M. Lyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Lyon of near Caledonia, and David L. Miller of Lakewood Sunday afternoon.

Tail baskets filled with white gladioli centered with pale pink carnations, palms and lighted tapers in six seven-branch candelabra, was the setting for the double ring ceremony read at 3:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Willard Lockard. Bows of white satin ribbon and greenery marked the family pews. A program of nuptial music was by Mrs. John Salisbury of Marion, organist, and Lowell E. Lyon, brother of the bride, vocalist. The custom of open church was observed.

GIVEN in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin and imported scalloped lace designed and made by her mother. Topping the lace bodice, closed in the back with tiny self covered buttons, was a roke of sheer tulle fashioned with a rounded neckline, and tiny cap sleeves. An overskirt of lace was worn over the hooped satin skirt joined to the bodice with a velvet sash.

Her fingertip veil of hand-rolled tulle fell from a crown of lace outlined with seed pearls and her bridal bouquet was a white orchid and stephanotis caught to an ivory fan which had been carried by her maternal great-grandmother nearly 100 years ago. Her rhinestone necklace and teardrop pearl earrings were a gift from the bridegroom and for something borrowed she carried a lace handkerchief carried by Mrs. Salisbury on her wedding day.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Edward Schreiedel of Parma, a roommate of the bride at Baldwin Wallace College, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Miller Jr. of Cuyahoga Falls, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Donald Kahler of Kenton, and Mrs. Lowell Lyon, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore identical gowns of aqua net fashioned with strapless bodices and tiered ruffled skirts worn over hoops. Complementing their costumes were shirugs with tiny sleeves and their nose-up veils were held with lace and pearl headpieces. Yellow sweetheart roses, caught to a fan, were carried by Mrs. Schreiedel and the bridesmaids' flowers were pink sweetheart roses and stat-bridal State University and is on the staff of Oakwood School in Dayton.

JIMMIE LYON, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow and Barbara Miller, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Her dress was similar to that worn by the bride and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Miller of Lakewood, was his brother, Paul R. Miller Jr. of Cuyahoga Falls. Ushers were R. J. Baird and R. R. Kermode of Bay Village, R. J. Reece of Kirkpatrick and W. E. Thompson of Cuyahoga Falls.

The candles were lit by Mrs. Rose Ann Shaw, Miss Joan Reece and Alan Reece cousins of the bride.

Mrs. David L. Miller

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue and white printed silk and navy accessories. Mrs. Miller combined pink accessories with her dusty rose lace dress. Both wore corsages of white shattered carnations.

GREEN FLOWERS decorated the church parlors for the reception. The table was decorated with white gladioli and huckleberry foliage. Hostesses were Mrs. Clarence Massmore, Mrs. Helen Pomeroy, Mrs. Jo Ann Orlis, Mrs. Marjorie Mark, Mrs. Glena Baker, Mrs. Eleanor Loyer, Mrs. Helen Cappeol, and Mrs. Reece Clement of Cleveland, assisted by members of the WSCS. Music was by Mrs. Ruth Reece Redelberger and Mrs. Salisbury.

Then the couple left on a wedding trip to Blowing Rock, N. C. The bride was wearing a white linen dress, navy linen duster, white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. After Sept. 1 they will make their home in Dayton.

The bride was graduated from Caledonia High School and Baldwin Wallace College. She formerly taught school in the Wheaton Consolidated and Galion Schools and will be on the staff of the Dayton schools this year. The bridegroom was graduated from Kent State University and is on the staff of Oakwood School in Dayton.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Miller, A. T. Rudd, grandfather, and Mrs. Miller, grandmother of the bridegroom, of Lakewood. Professor and Mrs. Ralph P. Reece, Alan Reece of Cuyahoga Falls, N. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was onyx cufflinks and matching diamond studded tie clasp.

Bucyrus Police Seek Pay Hike Of 15 Per Cent

BUCYRUS—A pay raise of at least 15 per cent is asked in a petition filed with city council here this week by the 14 members of the Bucyrus police department. The petition now is in the hands of council's finance committee.

The petition, presented by Police Chief Arthur L. Stuckert, states that police pay here now is the lowest in a 30-mile radius and no higher than the amount paid for Class B day labor in area. The chief claimed the 15 per cent hike still would leave police receiving $3 a month less than Class A day laborers receive for a comparable number of working hours.

Last Raise in 1933

Police received their last pay raise on July 1, 1933, when all city employees received pay hikes averaging about $20 a month per employee.

Patrolmen with one year's service now are paid $265 a month, the department's three captains get $302 monthly and Chief Stuckert receives $370. In addition, police are given a $100-a-year clothing allowance.

Chief Stuckert said his department was withdrawing its request for overtime payment and submitting the straight 15 per cent salary boost in its place.

Had Asked Overtime

A special council committee had recommended July 5 that police and firemen be allowed a maximum of eight hours overtime monthly at the rate of $1.40 an hour.

Councilman C. Victor Vollrath, chairman of council's finance committee, informed city employees earlier this year that there would be no salary increases this year. He said there was no money available for any pay hikes.

Bucyrus To Retain Garbage Collection As City Operation

BUCYRUS—A proposal by a young Bucyrus, Jack A. Gallentine, to purchase Bucyrus' municipal garbage and rubbish collection system appeared to be a dead issue here today following a recommendation by a special council committee that the system be retained by the city.

After several months' study, the committee, composed of Councilmen-at-Large Fred Christian, Rollen Koons and D. D. Biber, recommended that the city continue to operate the collection service, but that efforts be made to cut down the annual loss incurred by the department, which reportedly operated at a $7,000 loss last year.

Gallentine, who had appeared before council several times in the last few months, but made no specific offer for the system, saying that he preferred that the city put a price on it, based on an inventory of all equipment used in the department.

In making his offer, Gallentine had told councilmen that he would double the present $1 monthly charge for residential users and similar fee hikes would be in store for commercial patrons.

Earlier this year, City Auditor E. C. Oppenlander had reported that revenue of the department last year amounted to $31,570, while operating expenses totaled $38,805, leaving a net loss of $7,235.

Kenton's Council Plans Action on Sewer Ordinance

KENTON — A meeting is scheduled tonight for Kenton city councilmen who will take action on an emergency ordinance providing for the inspection of each city property for a check on surface drainage into the sanitary sewers. If the ordinance is approved, property owners with any surface water draining into the sanitary sewers would be liable to a $25 to $100 fine and imprisonment for not more than 30 days.

In the absence of council president, Herbert Baker, and president pro tem, William Breidenbach, councilmen were unable to act on any legislation during the regular, Tuesday night meeting. Violation of the ordinance would be a misdemeanor and the property owner could be fined not less than $25 and not more than $100 and/or imprisoned not more than 30 days.

Kentucky Couples Incorporate, Obtain Bus for Group Vacation

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Vacation, yes, but how about an incorporated vacation?

That's the branch of six Owensboro couples, stockholders in "Kentucky Wonders? Inc."

With that legend lettered broadly across their converted school bus, they plan to leave for the East Saturday morning for 16 days of "roughing it."

Their itinerary: Sightseeing at Niagara Falls, a lobster feast in Maine and more sightseeing and possibly radio-television appearances in New York.

The couples are Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Foster Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Shelton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Glover Cary Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Owen.

The idea was born recently when Foster mentioned a bus-bound vacation. The couples talked it over then bought a 1946 model bus, equipped it, figured out a vacation budget and—for legal protection—incorporated. They drew up articles of incorporation, which were issued by the state.

The budget calls for an expenditure of $100 per person, including $25 each for the cost of operating the bus. Each couple is limited to one suitcase in addition to two dresses each for the women and a suit apiece for the men.
